Huge Increase in State
Government Costs ToldRILEY BLAMES

ON RELIEFController Says 1935
Expenditures Rose
31 Millions

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—California's governmental costs rose $31,000,000 in the last fiscal year, State Controller Ray L. Riley reported today. The total was $200,328,060.62.

Unemployed relief financing accounted for more than $23,500,000 of the increase, Riley said. This was an expenditure which formerly had been financed by bond issues.

Comparative Costs

Year	Cost
1931	123,644,803.34
1932	133,291,327.46
1933	122,310,011.27
1934	163,796,953.75
1935	168,506,064.79
1936	200,328,060.62

Bond-financed relief did not appear in the cost statement for 1935, since such bond issues are not classified as costs to the taxpayer until redemption of the issue.

Relief Loan Excluded

The total for 1936 does not include $2,500,000 borrowed by the unemployment relief fund from the highway fund as authorized at the last special session of the legislature. It is to be repaid from the general fund and will be figured as a cost of government at the time of repayment.

Business Booms
At Local Port

Orange county's harbor is headed for "big time." Already it is ranked as one of the Pacific coast's most popular pleasure ports. It also stacks up favorably with other harbors as a commercial center. These facts were shown today in a survey covering the entire harbor area, just completed by Harbormaster T. E. Bouche.

STEEL WAGES
ARE RAISED10 Per Cent Increase
Going to 150,000
Workers Nov. 16

NEW YORK. (AP)—A general increase averaging about 10 per cent in steel wages, benefiting chiefly lower paid workers, was announced today by leading units of the industry.

More than 150,000 of the industry's 475,000 hourly wage earners, it was estimated, were in line for pay boosts, effective Nov. 16, as result of the initial announcements by two subsidiaries of the United States Steel corp., and by Bethlehem Steel.

$33,000,000 Boost

U. S. Steel subsidiaries in the lead of what was expected in financial circles to embrace virtually the whole industry were Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp., the Inland Steel Co., and the Columbia Steel Co., a Pacific coast unit.

Based on the combined payrolls for 1935 of all U. S. Steel Corp. subsidiaries and those of Bethlehem, today's increase in payrolls was indicated at about $33,000,000 annually. With increased employment this year, however, and higher wage rolls, workers will receive a greater lift in compensation than these figures indicate.

Average 47 Cents

The average basic rate for the industry, according to the American Iron & Steel Institute, has been around 47 cents an hour, with variations for districts.

The latest was the third major boost stepping the average basic rate up from about 33 cents in 1933, around the depression depths.

Sale's Condition Still Is Critical

The 51-year-old actor was kept under an oxygen tent at Good Samaritan hospital with two doctors in constant attendance.

"Mr. Sale's condition is still critical," it was announced.

Family Battle Fatal to Two

ATLANTA. (AP)—A mother and daughter were killed today and a father and son were wounded critically in a quadruple shooting following a family argument in a suburban home.

Officers said the father killed his wife and a daughter and then wounded the boy and himself. At the hospital, neither was expected to live.

The dead were listed as: Mrs. Elsie Moore Owen, 37; Maxine Owen, 14, a high school junior.

The wounded were L. Neal Owen, 40, floor finisher, and Neal Owen, Jr.

Chrysler Giving $4,000,000 Bonus

DETROIT. (AP)—K. T. Keller, president of the Chrysler corporation, announced today the automobile manufacturing firm will distribute a $4,000,000 bonus among 67,000 employees the week of Dec. 14.

It will be the third distribution of extra compensation the concern has made to employees this year. Their total, Keller said, will be $8,300,000 in excess of regular wages.

F. D. R. TAKES NOTICE OF SHIP TIEUPDiscusses Strike With Secretary Perkins;
May Intervene

By the Associated Press

President Roosevelt planned to confer today with members of the maritime commission and Secretary of Labor Perkins regarding the maritime strike on the Pacific coast.

The strike, which entered its second week, has spread to other ports and tied up scores of ships.

It began when the Maritime Federation of the Pacific and ship owners' representatives reached a deadlock on "fundamental issues" after long negotiations.

McGrady Stays in West

Possible intervention of the government hinged on President Roosevelt's conference with the commission and Secretary Perkins.

Assistant Secretary of Labor Edward E. McGrady, who was to have left San Francisco by plane for Washington today, cancelled his reservation and will remain to offer his assistance in negotiating the warehousemen's strike there.

His efforts to settle the maritime strike have had little results.

Many New Boats

Huge increases in the number of craft permanently moored in the harbor were shown in the report. After a tedious check of all boats in the district, Bouche said 1621 craft are anchored in the bay, almost doubling last year's total of approximately 900.

The commercial fishing industry at the county port also made large gains during the year, with 6,407,699 pounds of fish delivered to three canneries during the period ending Sept. 1. This catch was valued at approximately $57,000, Bouche estimated. In addition to this, fresh fish distributed from markets by other methods added almost another 1,000,000 pounds to the grand total. Value of the latter catch was about $55,000.

Although the value of the sport fishing industry, where passengers either charter boats or make trips on live-bait craft and barges, could not be estimated, Harbormaster Bouche reported that 98,959 passengers were carried on these craft during the year. The anglers caught 66 Marlin swordfish, weighing 9750 pounds, and barracuda, yellowtail, sea bass, rock cod, albacore, tuna, skip-jack and bonita weighing approximately 200,000 pounds.

An increase of 20 per cent in passengers, cars and trucks using the Balboa island ferry also was reported. During the past year (Please Turn to Page 4, Col. 1)

Fear Food Shortage

Fruit and vegetable prices began soaring in Honolulu, where 600 travelers were marooned. Lemons jumped from $5.60 per case wholesale to $7.50, celery from $3.25 to $9.80. Lettuce skyrocketed from 5 to 25 cents per head and tomatoes went up from 15 cents per pound to 30 cents. Dealers reported supplies of canned goods on hand sufficient to last four weeks.

Meanwhile at Boston, union crews dealt a severe blow to the strike of insurgent members of the International Seamen's union by manning vessels outbound from the port.

Joseph Curran, chairman of the Seamen's Defense committee in New York, declared 151 ships and 15,000 men were idle in Atlantic and Gulf ports.

Death Calls S. A. Leader

A former attorney and judge, Bell had lived in Orange county 27 years, coming here from Oklahoma. In Orange, where he first lived, he was once city clerk. Santa Ana has been his home for more than 20 years.

Born in Missouri 67 years ago, Bell became a school teacher while still a youth, then continued through a law course in the University of Missouri at Columbia, Mo., and was admitted to the bar.

Before coming to California he served a term as county judge of Beckham county, Oklahoma.

Bell leaves his widow, Mrs. Ella M. Bell; three daughters, Miss Wilma Bell, Miss Mary Ellen Bell and Miss Anna Margaret Bell; two sons, Fleetwood Bell of Santa Ana, and Frank Bell of Long Beach.

Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow at 3:30 p. m. from the Smith and Tutthill chapel, with the Rev. W. S. Buchanan officiating. Interment will follow in Fairhaven cemetery.

Bell was a member of the First Christian church here, a member of the Elks club, and president of the Consolidated Orange Growers and of Bank of America.

Quintuplets Born Dead to Woman in North Carolina

DURHAM, N. C. (AP)—Quintuplets were born to a 20-year-old white woman here, but Duke hospital physicians said today the five, four months premature, were dead at birth.

Hospital attendants declined to reveal the identity of the mother, but they said she was a resident of "a nearby town."

Quintuplets occur only once in about 50,000,000 cases.

Prominent Tustin Legion Man Dies

Glenn Amber Young, well known Tustin Legionnaire, passed away yesterday at San Fernando. He was past district commander, past county council commander and past commander of Tustin post 227, American Legion.

Funeral services will be held at the American Legion hall here at 2 p. m. tomorrow. The Rev. Robert Burns McAulay will officiate. Brown and Wagner will be in charge.

Welcome on Return
To Washington

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The questions of whether a constitutional amendment would be proposed to carry out some of the New Deal's objectives went unanswered today as President Roosevelt laughingly parried with inquirers at his press conference.

He asked newsmen who crowded around his desk, "Why spoil an otherwise happy day?" Mr. Roosevelt met reporters in the executive mansion a short while after receiving an uproarious welcome upon his return to the capital.

Still a Holiday

When another correspondent asked if he would wait until the supreme court ruled on pending New Deal measures before submitting his recommendations to congress, the chief executive again repeated with a smile that this day should be made a holiday.

He did, however, say he was considering making a speedy trip to Buenos Aires for the opening day of the Inter-American peace conference which convenes Dec. 1.

To Work on Budget

The President, in response to further questioning, said he had given no thought to new cabinet appointments, or to the question of filling other important posts now vacant.

He said he was starting in on the new budget tomorrow with Daniel W. Bell, acting director of the budget, and that this work would constitute his principal task in the next week, going over estimates with department heads and other officials.

May Go Fishing

The chief executive said he probably would reach a definite decision on the Buenos Aires trip next week. If he does not go to South America, he said he would take a leisurely cruise in Caribbean waters for a fishing trip lasting some two and one-half weeks.

The President opened the press conference with a remark that there was no news, but that he did want to say that the reception given him at the union station when he arrived from Hyde Park was "perfectly thrilling and I appreciate it enormously."

Tomato Hurler Gets 30 Days

He was starting a 30-day term in the county jail for assault, following his conviction by a jury in city court yesterday.

Murphy was arrested after spectators at the Santa Ana-Long Beach High school game two weeks ago, complained. He was specifically charged with striking Mrs. M. Brainerd in the head with a ripe, luscious piece of fruit.

The balance of a 90-day sentence was suspended by Judge John Mitchell.

NET CLOSES ON SCREEN THIEF

The "screen" burglar who victimized more than 20 Santa Ana homes a month ago and escaped with a quantity of valuable property may be caught at last.

South Pasadena police today were holding a man identified as Jack Allen, 27, who had several pieces of property in his possession believed to have been stolen here. He was arrested there last night.

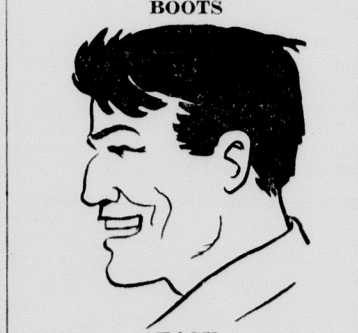

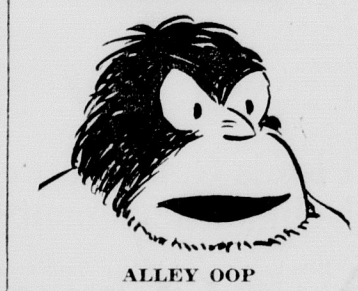

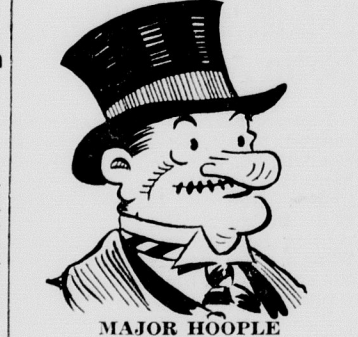

Detective Lieut. Charles Wolford of the Santa Ana police department was to go to South Pasadena today to make an attempt at identification of the suspect.

'G-Men' Still Hunt Hoepfels

WASHINGTON. (AP)—While justice department agents sought Congressman John H. Hoepfel and his son, Charles, as "fugitives from justice," a federal attorney planned today to ask forfeiture of their $2000 bail bonds.

The federal agents were put on the trail of the missing Californians after marshals failed to locate them in Washington, Arcadia, Calif., and Evansville, Ind.

Convicted of conspiring to sell a West Point appointment to James W. Ives of Baltimore for $1000, the Hoepfels are wanted for commitment to jail. The supreme court recently refused to review their case.

WOMEN JOIN IN DEFENSE
OF CITYPush Back Fascists in Thrust at Capital;
Streets Deserted

MADRID. (AP)—Madrid's last-ditch fighting men and women pushed back a Fascist thrust from suburban Carabanchel this afternoon while insurgent shells battered the capital's edges.

Insurgent reports of a revolt in the streets of Madrid were flatly denied.

Fascist troops penetrated the Madrid side of Carabanchel, four miles to the south, in furious fighting early today. This afternoon, however, they were reported to have retired under a heavy government bombardment and counter-offensive.

No Damage in City

A survey during the day indicated the center of Madrid, up to 3:45 p. m., was but little damaged by the insurgent shellfire, although the outskirts again were being blasted by the Fascist guns.

The first insurgent shells fell within the heart of Madrid proper this morning, coming from a battery at Alcorcon, eight miles from the capital.

Screams of terror rose from citizens on the streets as the shells exploded.

As the shells began crashing into the capital, the streets became deserted as if by magic as pedestrians scuttled into buildings and cellars.

Women Join Up

The Fascist bombardment came shortly after Madrid's women marched out to join the fighting, advancing shoulder to shoulder with their menfolk in a "human wall" against the onslaught of Fascist insurgents and fierce-fighting Moorish hordes storming at the gates of the capital.

By the hundreds, clutching up rifles, comely young women and hard-muscled housewives answered the government's desperate appeal for new strength to hurl into the battle.

SECURITY ACT JOB BEGINS

NEW YORK. (AP)—Instructions from the federal social security board to postmasters disclosed today the government would begin Nov. 16 gathering necessary information from employers and employees relative to old age benefits under the social security act.

Employers must fill out the forms to be delivered that day and return them to their respective postmasters by Nov. 21. Employees will have until Dec. 5 to return their cards.

Modified NRA Measure Planned

NEW YORK. (AP)—Representative William I. Sivovich (D., N. Y.) continued work today on a "modified NRA" measure he said he planned to introduce in congress next January.

The proposed bill, Sivovich said, would be based on four fundamental principles: Minimum wages, offering to everyone a living wage and preventing exploitation of labor by industry; maximum hours; abolition of child labor; and the right of collective bargaining.

PLANS TO TAP
H. B. SUPPLY
DRAFTEDBattle Will Be Fought
Out Again in State Legislature

By PAUL BODENHAMER

Battle lines were reforming today for a new attack on the state's $50,000,000 oil pool off Huntington Beach.

Voters Tuesday defeated proposition 4, which would have legalized slant drilling and given the state a royalty. But they did not discourage those who for years have been making assaults on this rich "plunder" belonging to the people.

West Has Scheme

And Supervisor N. E. West of Laguna Beach, militant opponent of proposition 4, is busy working out a new scheme for opening the oil pool. But he wouldn't say today what his scheme is.

Meanwhile, the Standard Oil company still owns 26 wells along the bluffs at Huntington Beach. These wells admittedly drain state oil. They are continuing to produce. Six of these wells slant—the Standard says they have wandered—into the state pool.

The Standard has offered a $486,000 royalty check to the state for the wells bottomed in the state oil. So far the state has refused to settle for $486,000.

Oil Vandalism

The oil in the state's "bucket" continues to grow less and less. Schemers continue to scheme how they can get it. They battle with one another. Nobody is able to put over his own scheme. And the state's "bucket" grows less and less.

The bill vetoed by Governor Merriam, No. 1684, legalized slant drilling on a basis of a 16 2-3 per cent royalty.

DELAY STORK RACE RULING

TORONTO, Ont. (AP)—Mr. Justice Middleton put over today until Nov. 16 further action on clause 9 of the famous Millar will after 18 mothers, numerous next of kin and the government of Ontario all had made representations as to how the strange legacy to the "most prolific mother" should be disposed of.

The supreme court justice, after hearing all sides to the dispute, found there was so much difference of opinion that he would require further arguments before ruling upon the validity of the clause.

The hearing served to bring forth another top flight claimant when Mrs. Elvira Mastroianni told the court she was the mother of nine children.

Near the end of the hearing the justice commented that "it looks like the contest lies between the mothers of nine children as far as I can see."

There was only one mother present claiming more than nine children born during the 10-year period specified by the will. That was Mrs. Lillian Kenny. She claims 11.

SCOUTS WILL GATHER FOR FIELD DAY

Annual County Council Lures 18 Troops to Local Bowl

Eighteen Boy Scout patrons already had entered today, and more were expected this afternoon for the annual county council field day, to be held Saturday in the municipal bowl.

Competition will be held in outdoor camping events, with a silver cup going to the winning group. First places in individual events will be rewarded with pennants.

Activities will include tent pitching, fire building, string burning and other outdoor events. More than 300 Scouts are expected to take part.

Competition will be by patrols rather than troops, giving no particular advantage to large troops of Scouts. Contestants will appear in uniform, and will be judged on appearance in an inspection to precede the other events, Scout Executive Harrison White said.

ARMY SEEKING FLOOD DATA

Army engineers in Washington are asking economic data on Orange county in connection with the final report on the proposed flood control and dam project for the Santa Ana river.

That was disclosed today when G. K. Walters, assistant army engineer from the Los Angeles office, conferred today with Terrence Halloran, SRA director; Jack Snow, statistician; Howard I. Wood, Chamber of Commerce secretary; Nick Thompson, flood control engineer, and others.

Walters sought information on population density, business, growth, water needs, and other economic factors which affect the desirability of flood control and water conservation work.

Warrant Issued For Escaped Man

A bench warrant was issued today for Orange county's most elusive prisoner, Warren Marr, alleged confidence man who escaped from a deputy sheriff in Pasadena shortly before his trial, failed to answer when called in Superior Judge James L. Allen's court today.

The judge ordered a bench warrant issued, and set Marr's bail at $10,000.

Marr had previously been brought to Orange county for trial on grand theft charges after a search of two years. Here two weeks, and indicted on a grand jury true bill, he slipped away a week before his arraignment in superior court.

MONTANUS SUE FOR DIVORCE

Dr. John J. Montanus, for the past three years autopsy physician for Orange county, was sued for divorce in superior court today by his wife, Laura A. Montanus, who charged him with extreme cruelty.

The couple married in Brooklyn, N. Y., 15 years ago, and has three children, one 15 months old, one 10 years and one 13 years old. Mrs. Montanus asked custody of the children. She is represented by Charles D. Swanner, Santa Ana.

Class Learns Pull Won't Hold Job

"Any man can get a job through a pull, but it takes more than a pull to hold that job."

Members of the job-finding class being conducted weekly at the Y. M. C. A. learned that lesson last night from J. Gustav White, instructor, whose topic was "How to Locate Prospective Employers."

"Job-finding," White said, "must be a business, a persistent sales campaign, with regular hours and a definite plan. Daily reports should be given the 'sales manager,' a sympathetic friend or counselor, of all failures or successes."

"Sales Techniques Applicable to Selling One's Services," will be the topic for next week.

Bonds of Seal Beach at Premium

Bonds issued by the city of Seal Beach in 1935, for construction of a breakwater and a sewage treatment plant, today commanded a premium of $1,025.70 when they were offered for sale by the Reconstruction Finance corporation in Washington.

Associated Press dispatches reported that Schwabacher and Company, New York, were high bidders with the offer on a total of $89,000 in 4 per cent bonds.

The sewage treatment plant has been completed, and the breakwater is nearing the end of construction.

Death Takes Mrs. Bella A. Bennett

Funeral services were being arranged today for Mrs. Bella A. Bennett, 78, who died at her home here this morning, after a short illness. She had been a resident of Santa Ana for the past 24 years, coming here from her birthplace, Illinois. Arrangements are under the direction of Smith and Tutill's funeral home.

Mrs. Bennett is survived by her husband, W. R. Bennett; two daughters, Mrs. Elsie Giberson of Oakland, and Mrs. Isabel Fink of Santa Ana; two sons, Walter Ray Bennett of Escondido and Fallett F. Bennett of Santa Ana.

Pleads Guilty to Delinquency Count

Pleading guilty before Superior Judge James L. Allen to a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor, Joe Hosack, Fullerton, made oral application for probation today through his attorney, Otto A. Jacobs, Santa Ana.

The charge was reduced from one of a statutory offense, after Hosack had pleaded guilty in a lower court to having had improper relations with a 14-year-old girl on Jan. 15, 1935.

Blanding, Croddy Are Talk Winners

Croddy's topic was "Farm Relief" and Blanding's "The Generalogy of Gardening." Other speakers included Dale Griggs, William MacQuarrie, Paul Alberts, George Cruickshank and Bob Hockaday.

Dr. C. J. Ruley was toastmaster and Dr. M. W. Hollingsworth general critic. Individual critics were Phil Hood, Malcolm Macurda, Nolan Doss, Ted McBird, Harry LeBard and Carl Sanborn.

A program of voting for a final competition for the best speakers in the club will be arranged by a committee named by Blanding, president of the chapter.

Farm Bureau to Buy Building

Orange county Farm bureau will buy a building and two lots at 353 South Main street, Orange, to house its offices, it was announced today following the annual meeting of directors.

Directors said they had authorized the ways and means committee to proceed with the purchase.

An existing building, when remodeled, will provide offices for the farm bureau, a demonstration kitchen and a meeting place for the West Orange Farm center.

An assembly hall will be constructed, according to the directors' plans.

Admits Charge Involving Girl

Admitting nine previous arrests, three of them on morals charges, Edwin W. Mayfield, 24, of Fullerton, today entered a plea of guilty to a charge of assault, involving an 8-year-old girl, and was sentenced to San Quentin state penitentiary by Superior Judge James L. Allen.

Mayfield told Judge Allen he had "been on the bum" for the past four years, and had been arrested on charges varying from petit theft to statutory charges.

The three morals counts against him were all with minor girls, he said. His prison sentence will run from one to 14 years.

Dismiss Charge Against Bookie

Bookmaking charges against R. E. Phillips, filed after a sheriff's raid in September, were dismissed today in Santa Ana justice court.

Dismissal was on motion of Deputy District Attorney Harold McCabe, who intimated there was no sufficient evidence that bets were placed with Phillips.

Collins Returns To Private Law Practice Today

He was appointed by Superior Judge James L. Allen to defend Harry E. McElroy, alias Harry Montgomery, alias Harry McKnight, charged with burglarizing a Huntington Beach home on Sept. 11.

Attorney Collins requested an early date and a quick trial. He asked for a jury. He will defend his client before Judge Allen Nov. 17.

Collins has been serving as congressman for the 19th district, a position which will be filled after Jan. 1 by Harry Sheppard, Yucalpa.

Aim Attack at Red Scale Pest

A tremendous and continued hatch of red scale during September and October has made this pest a serious menace to Southern California citrus, according to the bureau of pest control of the California Fruit Growers exchange.

The bureau advises against the use of oil sprays this late, except in particular instances, and suggests the use of fumigation, as heavy dosages can be used with comparative safety during December and January.

JOURNAL TO HAVE COOK SCHOOL

Event Is Planned for Nov. 18, 19 and 20 at Walker's Theater

New views on the art of fine cooking will be given housewives of Santa Ana and vicinity at the All-Electric Cooking school to be held Nov. 18, 19 and 20 at Walker's theater. This entertaining event is being sponsored by the Santa Ana Journal, and all women are cordially invited to be present.

Mrs. Ruth Erb, home economist, has been chosen to conduct the school. She is well known throughout western homemaking circles for her originality in presenting her cooking school programs, and her local course promises to be one of her most interesting.

"I am looking forward to my visit with Santa Ana women," Mrs. Erb said today. "I am sure that they, like all modern women, are interested in keeping up with modern trends in cooking. That is why it is a pleasure to tell them of the latest development in electric cookery, for it represents the height of modernity. An electrically-equipped kitchen closely fits in with today's design of easier living. Less work for the housewife and greater freedom from routine tasks are brought about by electric cookery. Further, it is convenient, economical, dependable—additional demonstrations of its attribute of supreme modernity."

Tempting recipes and complete menus will be given her listeners by Mrs. Erb. The stage at the cooking school will be furnished with electrical equipment, which will be used by Mrs. Erb in the preparation of delicious new dishes. Many desirable prizes will be awarded at each session of the school.

THORN in the FLESH

By GLENN L. THORNE

A lot of stories and pictures have come out of the Spanish situation that are horrible to even think about. Two seem to stand out as heart sickening examples: One, a picture released some time ago of a group of Communists "executing" Christ (a statue). The other, just released, of a different nature yet in reality the same scene from a different angle, is the picture of the 12-year-old girl Paquita Vindel. Posed with gun in hand she is being acclaimed a heroine for having killed at least five men.

Is it any wonder we Americans (with emphasis on the "Americans") are opposed to Communism? It can't (?) happen here, no—but what is the effect on our boys and girls to see such pictures? At that age youth becomes a hero worshiper and has dreams of becoming a hero himself.

True, such pictures only serve to strengthen the adults' determination to keep America American, but what about the effect on our youngsters? I am not an advocate of a censorship of news, but there are times when it wouldn't take much to convert me to the idea.

OHIO CITY'S SCHOOLS TO BE CLOSED

Defeat of Special Tax To Pay Teachers Is Cause of Move

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio. (AP)—This industrial city's 12,300 public school pupils went to their classes today not knowing when they would return.

On the heels of a two-to-one defeat of a proposed special three-mill levy, the city board of education approved, four to one, a resolution to close schools indefinitely after today's sessions because of lack of operating funds and inability to pay $66,000 due the 381 teachers for last month's salaries. The proposed special levy was designed to raise $240,000 a year for three years. Its defeat, Assistant State Director of Education E. N. Dietrich said in Columbus, left the city "in tough luck."

S. A. BOY RHODES CANDIDATE

John Henderson, 20-year-old son of School Superintendent Frank A. Henderson and Mrs. Henderson of Santa Ana, was one of seven students of Occidental college and the University of California at Los Angeles to be named today as candidates for Rhodes scholarships at Oxford university, England.

He is a chemistry major in the pre-medical school at Occidental, and is in his senior year. He was graduated from Santa Ana High school.

Elimination examinations for the high scholarship honor will be taken on Dec. 17. Others nominated to appear before the state selection committee on Dec. 19 are William Leary, Herbert Morgan, Stanley Rubin, Edward Schaffer, Jr., and Irving Tierman of U. C. L. A., and Guy Nunn of Occidental college.

Farm Bankruptcy Cases Decrease

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The agriculture department reported today the number of financially pressed farmers who sought relief in bankruptcy proceedings dropped in 31 states last year as compared with 1934.

The farmer bankruptcies reported in 1935 numbered 4311, while in 1934 there were 4716. The number reached a peak of 7872 in 1925, declined to 4023 in 1931, and then advanced to 5917 in 1933.

MORE ABOUT NEWPORT

In this detailed report, compiled for comparison with expected increases in the next few years, Bouchey has listed the size and draft of all boats making the harbor their home port, as well as all visiting craft. The largest number of boats registered range between 20 and 30 feet in length, with 527 anchored in the harbor in this class.

Ranging into the larger sizes, there are 235 vessels between 30 and 40 feet; 78 between 40 and 55 feet; 16 between 55 and 75 feet and four between 75 and 100 feet. Sizes of vessels run up to 250 feet, Bouchey said.

Of the total craft moored in the bay, 300 are commercial fishing boats and 98 are documented vessels, weighing more than 15 tons. Miscellaneous sail boats, without motors, not documented or numbered, total 475, Bouchey said, while he listed 237 vessels under 20 feet.

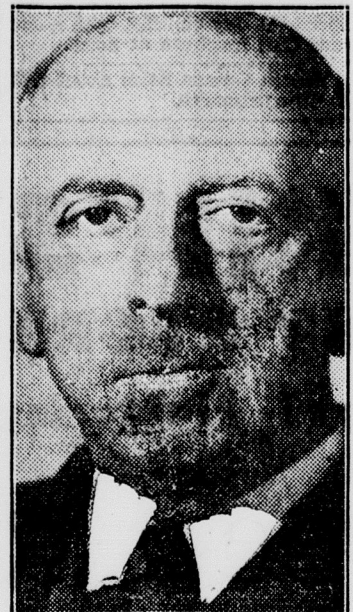

Many Visiting Boats In his report on visiting craft, the harbor master shows that 667 visiting boats entered the harbor during the year. Of this number, 248 boats were between 40 and 55 feet, showing that owners of many large vessels are making the county harbor a visiting port on their cruises.

Interesting figures, showing popularity of the harbor since dredging operations, show that eight boats having a draft of from 14 to 16 feet entered the bay. Twelve of the visitors were between 150 and 200 feet in length.

In his report on the fishing industry, Harbor Master Bouchey showed that mackerel made up the heaviest catch during the year. Commercial fishermen sold 451,541 pounds to canneries. Bonita were next, with 158,020 caught, and halibut ranked third with 156,634 pounds delivered at the plants. The smallest fish "crop" was devil fish, 716 pounds. Sand dabs were next, with 1538 pounds.

Many Passengers Commercial fishermen carrying passengers enjoyed one of their most successful years, the report shows. Twenty-three trolling boats carried 8213 passengers, 15 live bait boats carried 27,500, two fishing barges handled 43,000 passengers, and four excursion boats carried 20,246 persons.

Defeats Mrs. Kahn

MEXICO FACES OIL STRIKE

MEXICO CITY. (AP)—Mexico's oil industry, largely foreign controlled, was reported today threatened by a general strike.

About 100 demands were submitted to several producing companies as the powerful oil syndicates drafted a proposed new blanket labor contract.

Failure to reply "satisfactorily" within 15 days, the companies were warned by union leaders, would be regarded as cause for calling out an estimated 16,000 workers.

Iowa Governor Race in Doubt

DES MOINES, Iowa. (AP)—Whether Nelson G. Kraschel, Democrat, or George A. Wilson, Republican, is Iowa's next governor probably will be decided by the state legislature, meeting in January.

The race ended in a 1055 vote for Kraschel in the unofficial tabulation. County canvassing boards will check the vote next week and the state legislature will canvass the county reports before declaring either candidate elected.

Canada Hangs Three Slayings

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C. (AP)—Richardson and Eneas George, Indian brothers, and Charles Russell were hanged at Oakalla jail early today.

The George brothers died for the murder of F. H. Gisbourne, dominion Indian department constable at the Canford reserve near Merritt, B. C., in 1934. Russell killed William Hobbs in a Vancouver bank holdup last January.

NEGROES DIE ON GALLOWES GRENADA, Miss. (AP)—Two negroes, Andrew Hemphill and Tommy Jones, died on the gallows here today for the slaying of two white overseers. The overseers, William Simpson, Jr., former Duke university athlete, and W. M. Ingram, 21, were shot to death on a plantation near here Aug. 12. The negroes claimed self-defense.

MORE ABOUT TIDELANDS

The last session of the legislature refused to pass the bill which would have legalized ocean drilling. Craig thinks this bill, too, may come up again at the next session.

Futile Efforts In either case, he remarked, the measure probably will be referred back to the people as a referendum measure, and nothing will come of it. And until the matter is settled, the state oil will continue to be drained. The state's only royalty comes from 80 independent operators with slanted wells, who have an agreement with the state.

From West's arguments against No. 4 it appears he will suggest among other things that development of the off-shore pool be thrown open to bidding with the hope that the state will gain additional revenue.

No. 4 provided royalty of 14 2-7 per cent.

Olson Blocks Settlement Craig said he found the principal argument against No. 4 were that voters felt it was possible under the bill to drill right down to the water line, and that the royalty was too low.

State Director of Finance Arlin E. Stockburger told The Journal today that settlement with Standard on royalties for oil already taken through the whiststocked wells has been suspended since 1935 at the request of Senator Culbert Olson.

FIRST DEBATE FOR JAYSEE DEC. 11

Dual Meet Is Scheduled With San Bernardino And Riverside

Santa Ana Junior college's first forensic meet will be a dual match against San Bernardino and Riverside on Dec. 11, school officials announced today.

Tryouts are being held at the college this week in an effort to decide the members of the debating team which will represent the Main street institution in the Eastern conference.

Snedaker, Bishop and Miss Burles represented Santa Ana in the Eastern division arguments last year. Daughenbaugh, Davis and Yerington are sophomores competing for the jaysee team for the first time. Miss Berry and Miss Pellegrin are freshman students trying for debating positions.

The question which will be argued is, "Resolved, that congress shall be empowered to fix minimum wages and maximum hours for industry."

Mrs. Nanny Wood Honeyman, who was a bridesmaid at the wedding of President and Mrs. Roosevelt, won a seat in congress from Oregon by an upset victory over Rep. William Ekwall, Republican incumbent. She is the wife of a wealthy Portland business man and is a grandmother. (Associated Press Photo.)

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The new house of representatives will include five women—one less than at the last session.

Re-elected were May T. Norton (D., N. J.), Edith Nourse Rogers (R., Mass.), Caroline O'Day (D., N. Y.) and Virginia E. Jenckes (D., Ind.).

The new congresswoman, and fifth of the list, is Mrs. Nanny Wood Honeyman of Portland, Ore., a Democrat and a grandmother, who defeated the incumbent, Rep. William Ekwall, Republican, in Tuesday's election.

After 12 years in the house, the veteran Florence P. Kahn (R., Cal.) met defeat. Isabella Greenway (D., Ariz.) did not seek reelection.

5 NATIONS SIGN PACT ON SUBS

LONDON. (AP)—Five nations today signed a protocol to humanize submarine warfare. The ceremony, at the foreign office, was the first step in an attempt to secure general world adherence.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, Sir Samuel Hoare, first lord of the admiralty, and Ramsay MacDonald, lord president of the council, affixed their signatures for the United Kingdom together with the high commissioners of the dominions.

The United States, France, Italian and Japanese ambassadors also signed the protocol, which perpetuates a part of the 1930 London naval treaty.

He said Edward, owner of the "EP" ranch in Alberta, looked forward to the trip with high enthusiasm.

No British king ever has set foot in North America, although Edward visited this continent four times before his accession to the throne.

Wife of Chile's President Dies

CALL SEATTLE STRIKE

SEATTLE. (AP)—The Cracker & Confectionery Workers union, local 23, called a strike to start at 5 p. m. today in four cracker manufacturing plants here. The strike will affect 300 men and women.

MORE ABOUT STATE COSTS

Other Increases
Gasoline tax apportionments were $1,155,000 greater than last year and auto registration fees apportioned to counties rose nearly $200,000.

Liquor license apportionments to cities and counties decreased $950,000. This was caused by a change in the law, which formerly provided for semi-annual distribution of fees, and now requires a yearly settlement. At present, Riley said, over $2,000,000 is awaiting distribution next March.

Apportionments of motor bus and truck tax to counties decreased $166,697.03. The returns of public utility properties to the county tax rolls has ended this source of state revenue, except for minor collections of delinquent taxes.

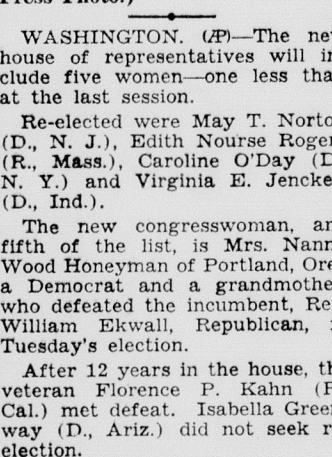

Warrant Interest Larger

Board of equalization, $424,515.23.
Franchise tax commissioner, $157,656.56.
Department of finance, $114,119.21.
Personnel board, $82,740.15.
Agency Cost Higher
Regulative functions increased their expenditures $1,184,460.82, aside from costs of new construction. Agencies with the largest increased costs include:
Department of motor vehicles, $687,599.74.
Railroad commission, $253,120.63.
Construction functions increased their aggregate expenditures over $735,000. The highway expenditures went up more than $1,000,000 while costs of the San Francisco harbor commission went down $280,000.

Lower costs were also reflected in apportionments to junior colleges, elementary and high schools, which were $1,220,000 lower than in the preceding fiscal year.

PENSIONITES CLAIM NEW STRENGTH

67 Named to Congress Tuesday Favor Plan of Dr. Townsend

CHICAGO. (AP)—Leaders of the Townsend national recovery plan, the old age pension movement fostered by Dr. Francis E. Townsend, claimed today that at least 67 congressmen and senators elected Tuesday would vote for the Townsend movement.

At least that many listed as favorable, leaders said, were assured of their seats. The group included 37 Democrats, 14 Republicans, 10 Progressives and five Farmer-Laborites.

Eleven congressmen were listed from California. Other states grouped included Florida, six; Maine, four; Minnesota, five; Ohio, seven; Pennsylvania, five; Texas, five; Wisconsin, seven, and at least 15 states with lesser numbers.

New York's list, officials said, had not been tabulated.

Clarke Retires as Utility President

CHICAGO. (AP)—Harley L. Clarke, for years an important figure in the international utilities industry, has retired as president of the Utilities Power and Light corporation, giant concern he founded more than two decades ago.

Shipping Officials Dock Boat in Strike

With shoreside workers on strike in the Pacific Coast marine walkout, Capt. William E. Carley (left) and W. Harold Hoskier, coast and Los Angeles managers, respectively, for the Panama-Pacific line, had to go to work to raise the gangway to the liner California when it docked at Los Angeles with 266 passengers aboard. They also helped moor the ship. (Associated Press Photo)

PLANS PLANE FACTORY

LONG BEACH. (AP)—W. B. Kinney, veteran aircraft motor designer and manufacturer, has announced plans for a factory here in which production of land and water planes and motors will start within 90 days.

Willard Junior High News

Mr. D. Miller, of the Santa Ana fire department gave an introductory talk preceding fire prevention movies at a special assembly for ninth graders called by Mr. Mitchell at 10 o'clock Friday, Oct. 30 in the school auditorium.

A fire prevention picture "The Bad Master" was the feature, followed by a Laurel and Hardy and a Mickey Mouse comedy, showing the students how fire prevention should be conducted.

Lucille Crawford and Isabella Relistab were recently elected volleyball captains for the ninth grade. Helen Butler, Betty Joe Froeschie and Irma Youd were chosen as eighth grade captains. Marilyn Bare, Betty Hawkins and Janet Coffin will act as captains for the seventh grade.

According to Miss Anderson, Willard has the largest turnout in years. There are 157 girls on the volleyball courts. The inter-class games started Tuesday, Nov. 3.

A discussion of the fall program of the Southern California Association of Teachers of English, held Oct. 31 at the University of Southern California, featured the semi-monthly meeting of the English department, held Monday, Nov. 2, in the home economics dining room, according to Mrs. M. L. Scott, chairman.

The discussion was led by Mrs. Budd, Mrs. Meeks, Miss Plumb and Mrs. Smith, who reported on the meetings they attended. Tea was poured by Mrs. M. L. Scott for Miss Plumb, Miss Elliott, Mrs. Low, Mrs. Allen, Mrs. Budd, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Minge of the English department and Mrs. Meeks and Miss Fitz, guests.

A clever one-act comedy was presented by a group of ninth grade students on Friday, Nov. 6, under the direction of Mrs. Low and Mr. Hicks.

A medley of three numbers was played on the piano by Clare West. All boys in the P. E. classes started decaathlon Monday, Nov. 2, according to Coach Lund. This is a test conducted quarterly by all P. E. classes to find the boys' ability in sports. Coach Lund says he thinks this is the fairest contest he has ever seen.

In decaathlon there are 10 events which count: pull-ups, push-ups, basket ball for distance, baseball strike, tennis serve, running broad jump, standing broad jump, high jump, 75-yard dash and basket ball for goal.

Mr. Hicks, of the Willard faculty, gave an interesting demonstration feature before Junior college engineering club at its last meeting, on Oct. 28.

The subject was "Characteristics of Auto Frequencies." Comparisons were made of different types of photograph pick-up, amplifiers and loud speakers. The wave forms of various sounds were shown with a cathode-ray oscilloscope.

Mr. Hicks will also conduct a class in radio electricity at the Junior college next semester.

"Who's Who," a three-act opera, will be presented for the second time by the Willard Glee clubs on Dec. 4, Miss Davis announced recently.

The opera was written and composed by two Santa Anans, Harold Fish of the First National bank, and Miss Gladys Campbell of Roosevelt school.

The cast of characters for this year's performance includes: Bob Benson, King of King's Hall; Daryl Sherrey, First Knight; Bob Davy, Second Knight; Warren McCarty, Guardian of the Gate; Harold Montano, Jester (Bob); Chester Briner, Jester (Jerry); Kenneth Goodman, John the Janitor; Bill Hull, Daniel O'Rourke; McGinnis, the policeman; Dorothy Frazier, president of Crane House; Betty Love, Betty; Carroll Miller, Jean; Carol Brinkerhoff, Mary, the cook; Beth Mitchell, Annie, the maid.

Miss Anderson is working on a dance for Act 2, but the girls have not yet been chosen. Miss Glancy and Mr. Michel are assisting Miss Davis in directing the opera.

L. A. BUILDING IS SOARING

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Building activity soared in Los Angeles in October, reaching a valuation of $8,002,068, the highest for any single month since January of 1930, listed at $9,115,846.

The previous record over the six year period was September of the present year with $7,166,966, J. J. Backus, general manager of the building and safety department, announced today.

Permits issued during October numbered 3,720, compared to 2,672 permits valued at $2,944,924 for October of 1935.

For the year to date, 30,320 permits have been issued for a total of $53,831,986, compared to 1935's 20,192 permits worth $26,202,648 up to this time.

Hobbs, N. M. (AP)—Phil Gordon, owner of a large fleet of oil field trucks, announced in a newspaper advertisement yesterday an increase of 20 per cent in wages to be paid his drivers.

"The United States," his advertisement said, "is headed for four of its most prosperous years and I want to start the ball rolling at home."

There still remain to be counted approximately 21,000 absentee ballots.

GREAT PLANE MANEUVERS AT MUROC

MUROC DRY LAKE. (AP)—Extensive air maneuvers utilizing the largest number of swift, new attack planes ever concentrated on the West coast are under way here.

Machine guns and bombs are used in target practice based on the assumption troops from a foreign power have invaded the United States and are encamped here on the desert near Bakersfield.

Wednesday the seventeenth attack group consisting of 30 new planes flew here from the army air base at March field.

Ground forces numbering 250 enlisted men and several officers came from March field to the Bakersfield municipal airport by car, truck and motorcycle.

In preliminary attacks on targets spread on the dry lake here, each plane has used four machine guns emplaced in the airplanes' wings in a terrific ground strafing.

Officers said the object of the maneuvers is to complete the group field work for the training year, in addition to the testing out of new organizations, airplanes and equipment under field conditions.

Vote Reversed on Proposition 14

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Proposition 14 on the state ballot, providing a method for consolidation of city and county governments, reversed its trend today and was rejected by a 791,441 to 766,627 vote. Previously the measure had led by more than 6000.

This figure was from a late tabulation. Since there were only a comparatively few precincts missing and the bulk of the missing ballots were from counties where partial returns showed a heavy negative vote, there was every reason to believe the measure went down to defeat.

Proposition 14 would have permitted an incorporated city to adopt a charter for a consolidated city and county government having the same boundaries as the former county.

HEADS ASIATIC FLEET

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Rear Admiral Harry E. Yarnall has become commander in chief of the American Asiatic fleet, relieving Rear Admiral Orin G. Murfin of that post at Shanghai.

Warns of Death If Dog Dies; Both Succumb Same Day

CULVER CITY. (AP)—When Mrs. Margaret McNulty, 75, sent her 16-year-old cocker spaniel, Min, to a dog hospital two weeks ago, she said:

"Take good care of her. If the dog dies, I'll die, too."

The two died on the same day last week, friends said today.

F. D. R. DINES CARDINAL

HYDE PARK, N. Y. (AP)—Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli, papal secretary of state, said after a luncheon with President Roosevelt yesterday he "enjoyed the visit very much" and was "very happy to have had the opportunity of seeing him and congratulating him."

In an interview on his train at nearby Poughkeepsie, the red-gowned Vatican dignitary talked amicably of scenes, people and the church organization he had witnessed on his month's tour of America.

Bishop Francis J. Spellman of Boston, another luncheon guest, intervened when reporters asked whether establishment of diplomatic relations between this country and the Vatican was discussed.

Reporters also had intended asking whether the name of Father Charles E. Coughlin of Detroit had entered the informal discussion, but desisted when Bishop Spellman insisted on confining the cardinal's remarks to other matters.

Spanish Club To Meet Tonight

New officers will be elected and a musical program presented this evening when El Club Cultural Recreativo de Santa Ana meets at the Fremont school at 7:30 o'clock. Tap dancing, Spanish songs, and an Hawaiian dance will be presented. The program is the first of the year, with others to follow every two weeks. New officers will be elected.

GETS SCHOLAR'S KEY

BERKELEY. (AP)—Marion Elizabeth Sproul, daughter of Dr. Robert G. Sproul, president of the University of California, is among 49 students of the university elected to membership in Phi Beta Kappa, scholarship honor society. The list of 34 seniors and 15 juniors, announced by Prof. V. F. Lenzen, president of the Berkeley chapter, also includes Katherine Dilworth, Pasadena.

ITALIANS ARE FARMING IN ETHIOPIA

ADDIS ABABA. (AP)—With their bayonets figuratively beaten into plowshares, 400 ex-soldiers and their families will establish an agricultural colony in the Ogetta region, 25 miles east of Addis Ababa, it was announced today.

They will form the vanguard of Italy's "agricultural warriors," seeking to wrest crops from land once rudely tilled by native Ethiopians.

Now that the rainy season is over, Italy's development of her new empire is proceeding swiftly.

Socialists Offer Strength to Reds

NEW YORK. (AP)—The Socialist party offered its aid today to the Communists in the belief that the latter party failed to poll the required 50,000 votes in Tuesday's election to assure it of a place on the 1938 statewide ballot.

Dr. Harry W. Laidler, New York state Socialist chairman and defeated candidate for governor, said that "we regret the Communist party has not retained its place" and added that "we shall make every effort to amend the law so as to give all minority parties all the rights to which they are entitled under any sound definition of democracy."

DROP ROBINSON APPEAL

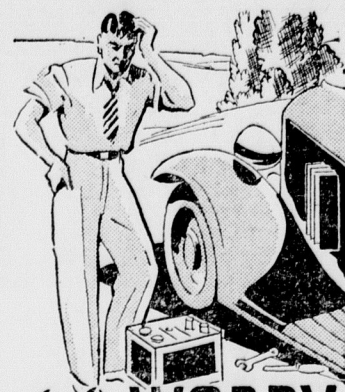

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Counsel for Thomas H. Robinson, Jr., who is serving a life prison sentence for the $50,000 kidnaping of Mrs. Alice Speed Stoll, abandoned their efforts for a new trial in federal district court yesterday.

80 Per Cent Vote In L. A. County

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—A total Los Angeles county and city vote of 1,396,606 bore out today Registrar William M. Kerr's forecast that 80 per cent of those eligible would ballot in the presidential election.

The actual figure is slightly in excess of 80 per cent, said Kerr, pointing out that it was both the highest total vote and the highest percentage of the registration in the county's history.

There still remain to be counted approximately 21,000 absentee ballots.

REVEAL PLAN TO FURNISH SPEAKERS

Bureau Formed Here Is Located in Willard
Junior High

Speakers who can talk on almost any subject are to be available through a new speakers bureau, it was announced today. The new bureau will furnish speakers for church programs, parent-teacher meetings, women's service, fraternal and other organizations.

Headquarters of the new service are located in room 118 of the Frances Willard junior high school, under direction of Mrs. Muriel White, who is connected with the adult education department of the Santa Ana schools.

Forum Will Aid
The primary purpose of the bureau, according to Mrs. White, is to bring before the residents of Orange county speakers who are a part of this community and who have viewpoints to express in their own fields of interest. Already a wide list of men and women eligible as speakers and selected for their ability to present a variety of subjects has been secured, she said.

Although an outgrowth of the Orange county forum, it is not directly connected with the forum nor is it financed by it, she explained. Homer C. Chaney, forum director, has offered the services of forum leaders, who will officiate without charge, the only requirement being that the organizations before whom the leaders are to talk anticipate an attendance of a 100 or more.

It was also emphasized that the speaker's bureau makes no charge for its service in supplying speakers. It is planned to carry the movement through until June. If there is sufficient demand for its services, there is a possibility of it becoming permanent.

No Fee Required
Through W. W. Wieman, supervisor of the emergency education program, teachers can be obtained for groups who want to pursue an organized course of study such as parental educational, book reviewing, etc.

Letters have been mailed to every organization interested in education and it is suggested that program chairman of the various clubs and societies consult the speaker's bureau concerning transportation costs, lecture fees, etc. when a club has a speaker's fund, proper remuneration to the speaker is expected, but no group will be denied a speaker because of inability to compensate him for his services. It is requested that all communications and inquiries concerning the bureau be addressed to Mrs. White at the Willard Junior High school, through the office of Chaney.

The above movement, has the cooperation of the American Institute of Banking, the Santa Ana adult education faculty and many individuals, it was announced.

Candidate Can't Be Flatfoot Now

"I refuse," declared Major Ernest W. Brown, police superintendent, "to appoint a presidential candidate to be a policeman."

The question came up in a letter from Howard W. Overstreet, who

Lathrop Junior High News

Several Lathrop teachers attended a very helpful demonstration of reading given by Mrs. Gladys Potter of the state department of education on Tuesday at the Orangethorpe school. Teachers attending the meeting were Mrs. Grace Wolff, Mrs. Frances Beeson, Miss Lota Blythe and Miss Pearl Nicholson.

As a home room project, Mrs. Grace Wolff's class has collected pennies for seeds which will be planted in a garden of winter blooming flowers.

Miss Pearl Nicholson's class celebrated Halloween with a class party on the afternoon of Oct. 30. The committee of Janet Anderson, Anita Morton and Jack Eller had planned progressive games and refreshments of candies and nuts. Mrs. Bailord, the class mother, assisted in the serving and games. Prizes for high scores went to Mary Dol and Earl Gibson. Low scores prizes went to Janet Anderson and Albert McKee. Tally cards and decorations were made by the students as a part of their class project.

Low eight general science classes under Ferris Scott's direction have been conducting interesting experiments with a model planetarium Demonstrations showing the changes of seasons and phases of the moon have been made by the class.

A week of speed ball has just been completed by the boys' physical education classes at Lathrop. Seventh graders were glad to be seventh graders last Friday at Lathrop when a party was given for them in the school assembly room. A program of musical and dance numbers and readings was given by the members of the various seventh grade classes.

The following students contributed: Robert Minnix and Lyle Murry led the Lathrop school song; violin solo—Lloyd Jaden; tap dance—Marguerite Alvord; reading—Bertha Montana; saxophone solo—George Dove; harmonica duet—Virginia Cairns and Lorraine Brummond; violin solo—(Waltz-Chopin)—Adah Mae Adkins; piano solo—Eleanor Lawrence; vocal trio—Junior Steffen, Billy Durbin, Clarence Angell; reading—Wanda Marie Good; saxophone solo—Billy Bob McPhee; songs by the students—led by Mrs. Hill, accompanied by Mrs. Beeson; piano and song—Dorothy and Ruth Nelson; piano solo (In Canoe)—Louise Haven; refreshments. Teachers who planned and arranged the party were Mrs. Marguerite Hill, Mrs. Frances Beeson, Mr. Ralph Baker, Miss Mildred Tummord, Mrs. Marjorie Crumrine, Miss Ruth Gordon, Miss Elfreda Biggen, Miss Olive Wherry, Miss Bernice Hart and Miss Henrietta Foster.

An exhibit of Indian relics has been on display in Lathrop recently. The exhibit includes old stone mortars, skulls, various shapes and kinds of arrowheads, Indian baskets, wild berries and roots are among some of these interesting objects. Lathrop students may be found studying the exhibit at various times during the day. Mr. Ramona, who is of Indian parentage, and who is working on a large map of Orange county in the Lathrop building, has supplied these exhibits.

Preparations for a series of Know Your School Teas are being made by Lathrop students and teachers as an education and book week activity. Invitations written by the students will be taken to parents and relatives interested in visiting the school during these weeks. National Education week, which occurs the week of Nov. 9 to 13, is an annual event in the school calendar.

Following it, from Nov. 15 to 21, is National Book week, which is also celebrated extensively by the schools. In order to combine activities for the two events, the first tea, which will be for ninth grade parents, will be held on Friday, Nov. 13 of Education week. Following this, on Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 17 and 18 of Book week, will be given the tea for eighth grade and seventh grade parents.

The Lathrop branch library, working with the students and teachers, has planned a Book week fair which promises to be interesting to all patrons of the school and library as well as the students. Everyone interested in the activities of Lathrop and in the Lathrop branch library is urged to attend.

BEESMEYER TO PASSED UP $5 IN BIBLE SEEK PAROLE

SAN QUENTIN, (AP)—The state board of prison terms and paroles will consider the parole petition of Gilbert Beesmyer, 51, former Los Angeles financier, here Nov. 15, it is announced by Mark Noon, board secretary. Beesmyer began serving a 40-year sentence early in 1931 for funds of a building and loan association.

Conklin's mother, Mrs. Anna Roberts of La Grange, Ill., came to visit him.

Helping him sort some of his clothing, she went through his old army uniform and found, in the left breast pocket, the Bible she sent him when he was in France. "Did you read it?" she asked.

"Yes, Mother," replied Conklin.

"How far?"

"From cover to cover."

Then, with a gesture not unfamiliar to those of a prosecuting attorney, she spread the Bible before him.

"Open the book to page three," she said.

There Conklin found a $5 bill. "I put it there when I sent the Bible," Mrs. Roberts said. And when she left she took the $5 bill.

Rushing the Season?

Not Exactly . . . There's a Reason

You see, it's like this . . . people like to take their time when buying Furniture . . . And this is just to remind you that now, while stocks are complete, is an excellent time to make selections. We will be pleased to put a "hold until Christmas" tag on anything you wish.

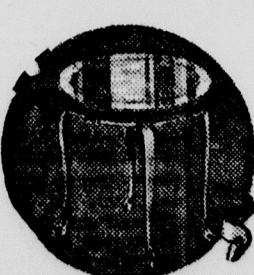

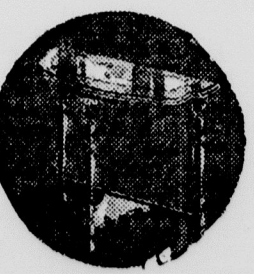

Santa's Surprised

The old boy is just as surprised to show up this early as you are to see him. He is also rather surprised to see how, each year, furniture gifts gain in number. But after all it's not so surprising. Furniture, as a gift, is one of the most sensible things you could think of. Many families get together, pool their finances, and buy a gift for the home.

The entire personnel at Chandler's is gift minded . . . They can give you more ideas . . . Just come in any day—look over the many beautiful pieces displayed on the floor.

Every woman likes a Governor Winthrop Desk . . . Or perhaps a secretary Desk . . . You can see some excellent examples at Chandler's. 24.50 to 89.00.

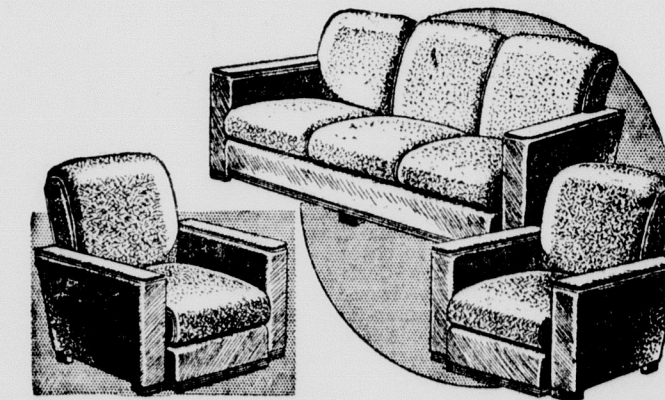

End Tables, Coffee Tables, Cocktail Tables, Occasional Tables and Lamp Tables . . . Modern and period designs. 6.50 to 37.50.

Main at Third

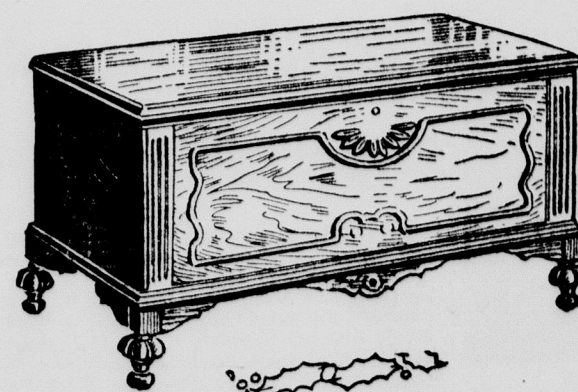

Lamps . . . Such beautiful Lamps . . . in fact they are Rembrandt Lamps . . . which means that they are all anyone could wish for in a Lamp. 7.50 to 35.00.

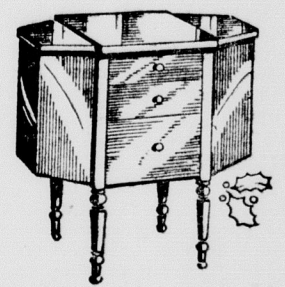

All the latest, smartest designs in Living Room Furniture are displayed at Chandler's . . . Karpen's fine creations . . . and many others . . . all properly styled and soundly constructed.

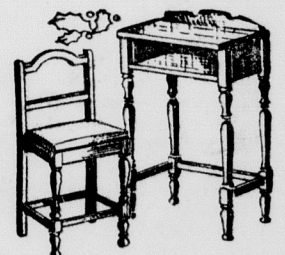

Group illustrated, 59.50 for davenport and chair

Sewing Cabinets are always appreciated. A good Cabinet made of solid mahogany can be bought for as little as 17.50.

TRADE WINDS QUIETED

Floyd (Arky) Vaughan, Fullerton's sparkling shortstop, will be in a Pittsburgh uniform again next spring.

You can take it straight from Harold (Pie) Traynor, who has signed to pilot the Pirates through the '37 campaign.

When honored at the Pittsburgh annual banquet for players, scribes and photographers, Manager Traynor quoted trade winds sending Vaughan to one of the New York clubs. He told The Sporting News in part: "I'll trade anybody on the club except Arky Vaughan and the Waner boys."

"We will turn a deaf ear to all propositions in that direction because Vaughan, a good shortstop and a consistent hitter at better than .300, is the backbone of our outfit. I figure it would take more than any rival club would offer to lure either the Waner boys away from me, too."

JUST A REMINDER

Caution: That Pomona-Santa Ana J. C. football game tonight, and all other Eastern conference tilts from here on out, will begin promptly at 7:30 instead of 8 o'clock. Reason: To get student growers and growlettes home earlier.

Incidentally, it will mean more publicity for the Dons in the Santa Ana edition of the metropolitan sheets, too, because the Los Angeles papers will have more time to handle sports copy from their correspondents here.

ANAHEIM VS. LAGUNA

Until further notice, this department would like to go on record favoring Anaheim of the major division as the opponent of Laguna Beach of the minor division for the Orange County Prep league's grand championship, to be settled on a neutral field two weeks from today.

Predicting an Anaheim victory is rather risky business, what with Orange's Panthers leading the major division parade with a perfect record. But Anaheim's lone defeat, suffered at the hands of Garden Grove on a pass interception, will mean exactly nothing provided the Colonists hurdle Huntington Beach today. Even if Orange does eliminate Garden Grove today, the Panthers must either defeat or tie Anaheim on the latter's turf Nov. 20.

SPORTS COPY-WRIGHTED

Don't be surprised if Citrus upsets Riverside J. C. at Azusa tonight. . . Sprouts Elder, former world's motorcycle racing champion, will attend the international matches at Atlantic stadium in Los Angeles tonight. . . Russ Newland, Associated Press ace, presents as his all-Pacific coast backfield George Karamatic of Gonzaga at fullback, Fred Funk of U. C. L. A. and Byron Haines of Washington at halfbacks, and either Dave Davis of U. S. C. or Ed Goddard of Washington State at quarterback. . .

Oxy, Caltech Vie In Rose Bowl

PASADENA, (AP)—Caltech's Engineers and the Tigers of Occidental move into the Rose Bowl tonight for a renewal of their strange "even-odd" football feud. Starting in 1925, Oxy has defeated the Engineers in odd years, while Caltech has captured the game in the even years.

INDIANS AND CALIFORNIA THREATEN

Floyd (Toy) Blower Will Lead Bears A gainst U. S. C. at Coliseum

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Washington's Huskies and the Trojans of Southern California, both unbeaten in the Pacific Coast conference football race, face stern tests tomorrow from teams which showed first sparks of power last Saturday.

Stanford, which provided the West's upset last week-end by thumping University of California at Los Angeles, meets Washington at Palo Alto, and the Trojans clash with California at Los Angeles Coliseum.

Barrage of Passes
The Indians struck powerful U. C. L. A. from the conference running, 19 to 6, with a barrage of passes for their first win of the season. Washington, seeking its sixth straight conference victory, is heavily favored.

California, which showed a surprising attack in losing, 14 to 13, to Washington State, will give the Trojans a high stumbling block before they meet Washington at Seattle next week-end.

The Indians' victory over Oregon State, 19 to 6, was a triumph to be a tough battle.

In a non-conference skirmish here, the St. Mary's Gaels, back from a disastrous Eastern campaign, clash with the Vandals of Idaho, victors over Gonzaga, 18 to 7, last week.

UPWARDS OF 45,000 SEE TROJANS, BEARS
LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Southern California, looking back over a season unscarred by defeat, would much prefer that California's Golden Bears postpone their next contest until after the end of the season.

Overconfidence Feared
Coach Howard Jones hasn't forgotten to remind the Trojan football squad that California played a whale of a game against Washington State last week before losing out, 14 to 13. He didn't have to remind his boys that Washington State held them to a 0-0 draw three weeks ago.

Troy, unhampered by injuries, is favored over California, but Howard Jones, guarding against overconfidence, pointed out that favoritism counts in only one place—the scoreboard.

With a crowd expected to range from 45,000 on hand, S. C. and California will go into the fray in good physical condition.

By PAUL WRIGHT

Severing all relations with girls' softball in a surprise move, and listening to a plea from Santa Ana and Orange officials to turn strictly amateur, National Nightball league moguls sat through an eventful session at the Green Cat cafe last night.

The men's organization went on record during mid-summer as favoring the sponsorship of the girls' teams whose popularity reached dizzy heights, but all except the Orange commissioners took a right-about-face last night.

Fearing commercialization of the girls' sport, Huntington Beach officials warned the league that stern opposition would be encountered from the beach district. Burly Bill Feistner, Anaheim manager, joined Representatives Francis enhall of Westminster, Ben Gelker of Orange, Fredable of Huntington Beach and John Wilcox of Santa Ana in recommending the girls' league be forgotten. Orange cast no vote.

Already having obtained the pitching services of Miss Lois Terry, "The Blonde Bombshell" of Los Angeles, Manager George Lackaye of the Stars indicated Santa Ana would join Representative Ray Arguello and the Orange Lionettes in advocating the formation of an Orange county league of girls, with no affiliation with the National wheel.

"Our trouble is within our own league, and if we can't offer the public a game that will outdraw Washington State Cougars at Pullman," Wilcox said.

zoning plan offered by Commissioners Stan Wilson and Harry Nuffer that would allow clubs to select players from only certain districts.

The zoning plan, if adopted, probably would cause the empires of Santa Ana and Huntington Beach to fall, paving the way for home talent (young players just out of high school and college) to find its way into the Star and Oiler lineups.

Wilcox advanced two solutions to pull the six-team confederacy out of the doldrums: (1) Eliminate the paying of players (only the pitchers usually make more than $50 per season), and turn all proceeds above expenses over to the city for recreational purposes, or to charity; and (2) consider a

Methods of balancing the league, discussed informally last night, will be brought before the members again at a meeting called by President Walter Wentz in Garden Grove Nov. 19.

Barring such players as Louie Neva, the Russian pitching and hitting terror, would balance the league, and the result would be a closer race that would bring out the fans, in the opinion of Feistner of Anaheim. "Neva was gone in that second half this year, and the Oiler lost ball games just like the rest of us," reminded Feistner.

Ben Gelker, Olive's "lone wolf," who has remained in the league despite financial losses every season, suggested a new split of the "gates" on a 60-40 basis would enable the smaller clubs to keep step with Santa Ana and Huntington Beach. Under his plan, the home club would receive 60 per cent of the intake instead of 100 per cent.

"The visiting team is entitled to 40 per cent, and must have it to keep running," Gelker said.

President Wentz expressed the belief the Shaughnessy plan, already adopted by the league, will revive interest next year. Under such arrangement, the top four clubs engage in an extra playoff for the championship. This will keep interest at a fever pitch even between the fifth and sixth-place clubs, Wentz said.

Managers unanimously agreed something must be done to start the turnstiles clicking more merrily.

Mrs. C. H. Chapman Wins Even-hole Golf Play At Country Club

Playing over four courses on consecutive week-ends, leading professionals and amateurs of Santa Ana and Long Beach Golf association will launch a 72-hole tournament at Lakewood Sunday.

Roy Renwick, Santa Ana Country club professional, will team with Ray Chapman, Santa Ana amateur, in one bracket of the parings, which were being drawn today.

The golfers will compete over the Santa Ana course a week from Sunday, over the Virginia and Recreational park courses of Long Beach on Nov. 22 and 23, respectively.

Mixed foursomes will be conducted as the regular feature of Santa Ana Country club play Sunday, Renwick said.

Mrs. C. H. Chapman, carding a 46-10-36, and Mrs. Roy Langley, with the same score, tied for honors in an even-hole tournament for ladies at the Country club yesterday. Mrs. Hugh Shields was third with a 45-8-37.

With the completion of the new, permanent roof on the Orange County Athletic club, and the arena now in the process of renovation, a grand opening celebration will be held Monday night when Tarzan Zim, the bare-footed, long-haired South American wildman, and Kimo Kudo, Japanese champion, clash in a three-fall return match.

Kudo and Zim were signed late yesterday by Promoter Sampson to headline a four-bout card for Monday. Kudo won a disputed decision from Zim when several ringsiders mixed in the affair and temporarily balked Zim's wild tactics.

Promoter Sampson has arranged a good supporting card with the latest Mexican mat star, Ignacio Martinez, from San Diego, making his first appearance hereabouts. Martinez is paired with Bob Managoff.

Brother Jonathan, the bearded Mormon giant, has been matched to face clever Casey Columbo in the semi-final. Columbo is a big card in this section, and returns for the first time in more than six months.

PRO-AMATEUR WILL OPEN SUNDAY

Mrs. C. H. Chapman Wins Even-hole Golf Play At Country Club

Playing over four courses on consecutive week-ends, leading professionals and amateurs of Santa Ana and Long Beach Golf association will launch a 72-hole tournament at Lakewood Sunday.

Roy Renwick, Santa Ana Country club professional, will team with Ray Chapman, Santa Ana amateur, in one bracket of the parings, which were being drawn today.

The golfers will compete over the Santa Ana course a week from Sunday, over the Virginia and Recreational park courses of Long Beach on Nov. 22 and 23, respectively.

Mixed foursomes will be conducted as the regular feature of Santa Ana Country club play Sunday, Renwick said.

Mrs. C. H. Chapman, carding a 46-10-36, and Mrs. Roy Langley, with the same score, tied for honors in an even-hole tournament for ladies at the Country club yesterday. Mrs. Hugh Shields was third with a 45-8-37.

With the completion of the new, permanent roof on the Orange County Athletic club, and the arena now in the process of renovation, a grand opening celebration will be held Monday night when Tarzan Zim, the bare-footed, long-haired South American wildman, and Kimo Kudo, Japanese champion, clash in a three-fall return match.

Kudo and Zim were signed late yesterday by Promoter Sampson to headline a four-bout card for Monday. Kudo won a disputed decision from Zim when several ringsiders mixed in the affair and temporarily balked Zim's wild tactics.

Promoter Sampson has arranged a good supporting card with the latest Mexican mat star, Ignacio Martinez, from San Diego, making his first appearance hereabouts. Martinez is paired with Bob Managoff.

Brother Jonathan, the bearded Mormon giant, has been matched to face clever Casey Columbo in the semi-final. Columbo is a big card in this section, and returns for the first time in more than six months.

MERRIAM IS HOPEFUL ON BUDGET

SACRAMENTO (AP).—California's financial program looking toward the balancing of the budget within a year or two, except for relief expenditures, can proceed as planned, due to the outcome of the election, Governor Merriam said late yesterday.

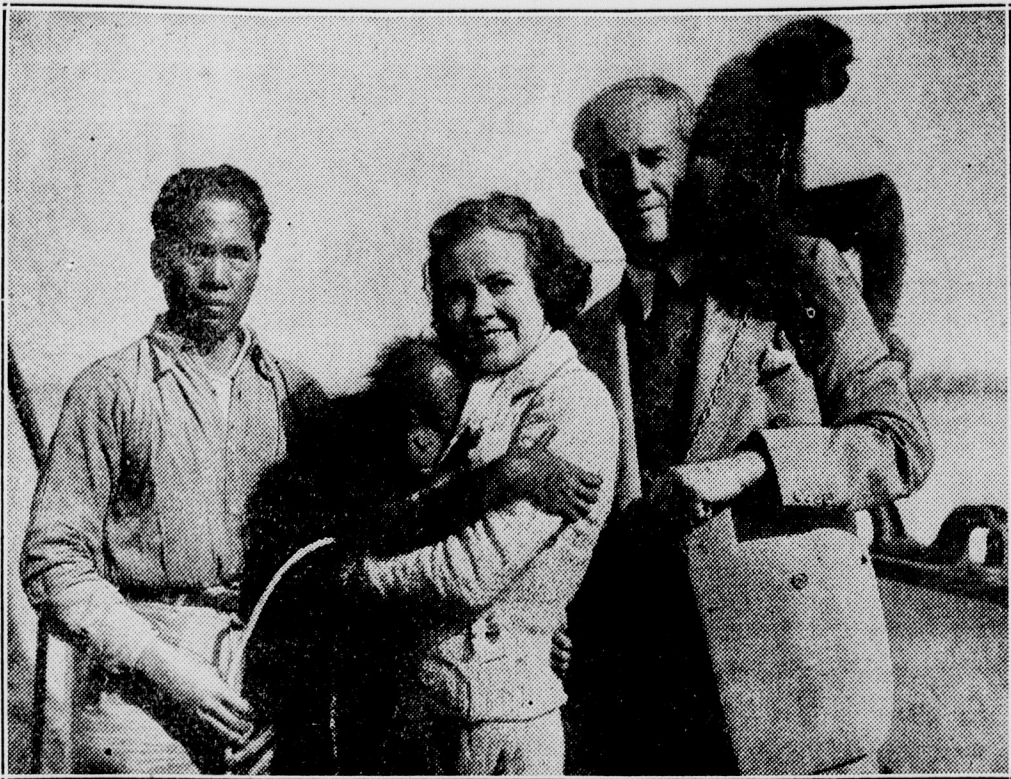

The results on various propositions, "was a very fine testimonial to the ability of the voters to discriminate," the governor said.

"When I made a careful survey of the propositions and received the report of attorneys," he said, "I was fearful the people would not be able to realize the undesirable provisions written into various measures."

"The results indicate the people thoroughly understood. Defeat of several propositions on the ballot which would have upset the budget and taxation program of the state is most encouraging."

"The budget makers are in a position now to proceed with formulating a budget for the legislature knowing the revenues for the next two years will remain as programmed by the last legislature."

BROOKS SHOWS LATEST STYLES NORRIS TO VIEW PLAN AT WORK

There is a definite swing toward the English drape model, which has exaggerated shoulders, full chest and carries with it English drape trousers and is one of the latest creations for men's clothing, says John Turner, manager of Brooks Clothing store in Santa Ana. The store also offers a fine selection in sportbacks and rich fall shades and patterns.

Turner points out that Brooks designers are recognized as some of the best in the industry. The concern prides itself in being able to offer to the buyer the most up-to-the-minute fashions, made possible by keeping posted on the latest creations. "You'll find that we offer our new stylings at the same time New York City shows them," says Turner.

Brooks' 90-day credit plan has won popular approval among those who have to budget their incomes, Turner states. There is no extra charge for this extra service.

McCook, Neb. (AP).—Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska celebrating his re-election quietly at his home here today, debated whether to attend the opening session of congress or of the state legislature.

He couldn't do both, but that was his own fault. It was legislation of his creation which changed their meeting habits so that both will go into session on Jan. 5.

He said he believed he would attend the birth of Nebraska's one-house legislature of 43 members, created under a state constitutional amendment he drafted and persuaded the voters to adopt two years ago. The first members were elected Tuesday on a non-partisan ballot, one of the major departures of the new system.

Congress will meet the same day because of the lame duck amendment to the federal constitution which Norris wrote and sponsored. The amendment also advanced the President's inauguration to Jan. 20.

Chuckles of The Election

WINS THE ELECTION,
BUT JOB IS ABOLISHED

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP).—Leo N. Swanson, Republican, was both gratified and chagrined over the election results. His constituents re-elected him state land commissioner. At the same time they adopted a constitutional amendment to abolish his job.

GIFT SHOP PLANS BIG SALE ON SUNFLOWERS

SCOTTSDALE, Neb. (AP).—State Senator A. T. Howard, owner of a gift shop here, bought a large shipment of Landon sunflowers when he was in Chicago last summer. The shipment failed to arrive promptly and Howard forgot about it. The shipment finally arrived election day. There will be a special sale on sunflowers soon.

HERE'S EVIDENCE THE ELECTION IS OVER

NEW YORK (AP).—Official evidence of the end of the 1936 presidential campaign: One advertisement in New York newspapers yesterday offered for sale "all furniture that was used by the Democratic national committee... practically new and... used less than two months." Another space advertised a "stunning authentic sale" of $60,000 worth of office furniture, "new when installed and used for a short time only by the Republican national and state campaign headquarters."

TELEPHONE OPERATOR "PROTECTS" PRESIDENT

STANFORD UNIVERSITY (AP). The editorial staff of the Stanford Daily, student newspaper, put in a person-to-person call for President Roosevelt at Hyde Park, N. MERRY-GO-ROUND ELECTION FORECAST IS ACCURATE

WASHINGTON. — Seldom have any political observers predicted an election with more uncanny accuracy than Drew Pearson and Robert S. Allen in their daily column, "The Washington Merry-Go-Round."

On Oct. 19, long before any other newspaper commentators or polls had ventured an opinion, they predicted the re-election of President Roosevelt "without any reservations whatsoever." They even hazarded an opinion that Roosevelt might carry Kansas, saying: "Recent sentiment there indicates that he has a chance."

This first prediction was made before Roosevelt visited New England. Subsequently, on Oct. 22, they revised their earlier prediction. At that time they said: "The Roosevelt ground swell is growing. It now looks as if the majority previously predicted for him by The Washington Merry-Go-Round will be considerably greater—the bandwagon rush is now in progress."

Again, on Oct. 30, to newspapers especially requesting a last-minute prediction, the Merry-Go-Rounders predicted that Governor Landon would carry only three states. On that same day the Literary Digest poll gave the election to Landon. Meanwhile other Washington columnists had been noticeably silent. Most of them were risking no prediction. Pearson and Allen, although under considerable pressure from Republican editors who published their column, stuck to their guns.

It was not until Nov. 1, on the very eve of the election, that most Washington newspaper correspondents put forward their guesses, many of them straddling or predicting a close fight. David Lawrence reported that Roosevelt's slim margin would "snatch the New Deal." Mark Sullivan, Frank Kent, Paul Mallon did not concede a Roosevelt victory.

Pearson and Allen's first test of public sentiment regarding Roosevelt's re-election was made last December, when they reported that his popularity would get him 69 per cent of the vote. This ratio was severely criticized in many quarters at the time, but present election returns would indicate they were right.

CANDIDATE, SENTENCED TO PRISON, WINS POST

FAYETTEVILLE, W. Va. (AP).—A prison sentence did not keep Alex Tinsley, 42-year-old railroad worker, out of a vigorous campaign for election to the state house of delegates. Freed on bail under a year's sentence for assault just in time to make a last appeal for votes before the election, he won easily.

G. O. P. STATE CHIEF PUSHES WHEELBARROW

ATLANTA, Va. (AP).—Hugh Howell, former Democratic state chairman, bet on President Roosevelt. He won a four-block ride in a wheelbarrow on an Atlanta business street at noon yesterday. Clint Hager, state Republican chairman, was the loser and motive power.

LOSES BET AND HAS TO CHANGE PARTY

SAN BERNARDINO (AP).—Mrs. Doris Tucker, as loser of a presidential election bet, forwarded her resignation as secretary of the county Republican central committee, enrolled with the Democrats, and agreed to "refrain from any criticism" of the Democratic bettor's party for two years.

TOWNSENDITES PLAN RALLY

Townsendites are going to celebrate their election victories tomorrow night at a "jollification" in Townsend hall, 509 West Fourth street.

Congressman-elect Harry Sheppard and all other successful candidates bearing the Townsend endorsement will be present, according to J. H. Walsh, local Townsend leader.

Pumpkin pie, ice cream and coffee will be served, starting at 7 p. m. There also will be community singing and a musical program.

ON TOUR OF MEXICO

A preview today of the machines which the manufacturers will put on display for the late 1936 and 1937 market indicated a decided trend toward additional safety features. New York's automobile show, where new models will be unveiled, opens in a few days.

Automobile shoppers will be confronted by new exterior and interior beauty, smoother motors, reduced gasoline consumption and salesmen with those self-starting fountain pens.

Trailers are more luxurious than ever. To running water and electric stoves have been added, for nomadic America, automatic dish washers, softer beds and first, second and third mortgages.

PUPILS VISIT NEWSPAPER

The Santa Ana Journal was visited by the low nine journalism class, Wednesday. The students, accompanied by Mrs. Allen, instructor were shown through the building by Mr. Adams.

They visited the main office, which consisted of the editorial rooms, where the news is written. The composing rooms, where the latest Intertype machines are used, were next inspected. Here the news and features are made ready for the press.

The class was then taken to the press room and the circulation department. While there they had the thrill of watching the paper go to press, and receiving their copies of the home edition. A visit to the new radio room where the latest news is broadcast by remote control to KVOE, concluded the trip.

The group that visited The Journal were Alfred Morgan, Ruth Finesilver, Morean Hayes, Bruce Adkinson, Carl Downs, Marjorie Calhoun, Gustavia Luzania, Jean Conliffe, Gene Remlinger, Marjorie Metzgar, Phyllis Bemis, Bill Waddell, Charlene Chambers and Henry Segerstrom.

Texas to Reopen Its Exposition

DALLAS, Tex. (AP).—Fred Florence, president of the Texas Centennial Central exposition, announced the $25,000,000 world's fair would be reopened in 1937. Demands by Dallas business men for a new exposition in 1937 caused the board of directors to announce a June 12 opening date for next year, Florence said.

Rambling County Editor

ELECTION night stories still filter in. Amusing stories, like the one about Fire Chief Frank Crocker, Newport Beach, and his guitar and the doughnuts.

Chief Crocker is a diligent guitarist, from all reports. His strums muted music while vote counters totted in Balboa Island precincts. In this case, something like fiddling while the Republicans burned!

Anyway the popular fire chief, who also dispenses hot coffee to tired tally takers, added a bit of sleight-of-hand to his preambulatory performance Tuesday night.

Balboa island's vote-verifiers insist that, even though he had both hands occupied with his musical meanderings on the guitar, and his vocal cords equally occupied with song, he made a half-dozen crullers disappear. The crullers were the twisty kind, with sugar on 'em, and they're hard to make disappear, too!

Seen by our invisible reporter in San Clemente, the Spanish Village . . . two of the huge palm trees along El Camino Real uprooted by a heavy truck when the tired driver took an unexpected snooze. All damage quickly taken care of by the truck owners, and everybody happy . . . All streets being cleared of weeds, trees bowled, and the entire village being spruced up for the influx of winter visitors . . . A stranger at the municipal clubhouse late one night, vociferously demanding that the caretaker place a bottle and glasses on his tray. Discovering the objector didn't even have a tray, police decided he was slightly the worse for wear and placed him in the city jail until morning. When released he still didn't have a tray . . . Politicians who hardly know where San Clemente is located, dashing about town, shaking hands with anyone and everyone, then passing along again, until next election . . .

I hope Mayor Henry can keep the political situation as quiet as his predecessor! Good luck, Henry!

Well, I'm going to start begging again! (No, I didn't bet on the election, either!)

You'll remember, a short time ago, this department carried a story about a family that got as far as Orange county in a trip from Illinois, when their ancient vehicle fell to pieces. I pointed out that it was unfortunate they'd left their home state, where they might have obtained relief, and was probably very foolish, but nevertheless, here they were, homeless and hungry, and without friends.

They've found lots of friends. One good soul let all seven of 'em—father, mother, mother-in-law and four kids—use a remodeled chicken house. Relief Corps workers from Garden Grove and Midway City have aided in hundreds of ways—gave 'em two beds, which is wonderful. (Although some of the youngsters still sleep on the floor.) They've donated food, clothing, and other necessities.

But that family needs a stove sumpin' awful. An oil stove, to cook on. There isn't any gas in the house, and an old oil stove, if someone has one they're not using any more. Right now, the family uses a little old portable camp gadget. To cook for seven people—imagine! You know!

So, if you know of anyone wanting to give away an old oil stove, let me know, huh?

Now I'm going to make Frank Briggs, smiling Santa Ana steak-fryer, happy.

Frank has been after me for some time, the rascal, to print some more of my famed fish recipes. This'n's might interest Tommy Bouchey, down at Balboa, too. It's about scallops. Officially called "Scallops Mornay."

First, to get the scallops, which are Eastern shellfish, one baits a hook with a coin. Then one swings it gently in front of a fish market clerk. He'll watch the coin with dazzled eyes, slowly becoming hypnotized. Finally he will say:

"What'cha want?"

And then you tell him scallops. He'll wrap 'em up, and you take 'em home, and treat 'em thusly:

Put one pint of scallops in a saute pan with an ounce of butter, season with salt and pepper and heat. Remove the juice and add one cupful of thick cream sauce, mix well and put in a deep dish, sprinkle with grated Parmesan or Swiss cheese, put small bits of butter on top and bake in a hot oven until brown.

Or, if that doesn't sound good, just fry 'em!

HALT ACTION TO REMOVE OLD PIER

Private Parties May Ask Permission to Build New Structure

LAGUNA BEACH.—In anticipation of proposals from private parties for construction of a fishing pier at the foot of Astor street, the city government is not planning to spend any money on removing wreckage of the old pier, Mayor Luther F. Mallow said today. Probabilities are that within the next two or three months bids will be received from parties interested in building a pier here as a business venture, Mayor Mallow added. He intimated that such proposals would receive consideration at the hands of the council.

Terms on which the city would care to negotiate, Mayor Mallow explained, would include removal of the wreckage of the old pier, thus saving the taxpayers several thousand dollars. He also expressed the belief that taxpayers of Laguna are not in a mood to vote bonds for a pier, hence it would be a logical thing for the city government to entertain bids for construction of a privately owned wharf of a type that would be satisfactory to the community.

Such a venture, he declared, would provide facilities for sports fishing, and add revenue to the city without any cost to the taxpayers.

AUTHOR NAMED L. B. SPEAKER

LAGUNA BEACH.—Kathleen Norris, nationally known novelist, is proposed as the main speaker at a peace meeting to be held here Tuesday under auspices of the Emergency Peace Campaign, a national organization devoted to the promotion of peace and international good will.

The meeting of the local committee in charge of arrangements for the meeting are Linton T. Simmons, superintendent of schools; Mrs. Leslie Kimmell, president of the Woman's club; Mrs. S. L. Caldwell, president of the Women's University club and St. Mary's Guild; Mrs. Melinda Woodward, president of the Laguna Beach Garden club; Mrs. James F. Garvin and Miss Mary Ghiselin.

PORT CITIZENS BUILD FLOAT

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—Work was beginning today on the Newport harbor float with which residents hope to walk away with honors in the Armistice day parade at Santa Ana, according to James D. Watkins, chairman of the float committee.

Equally confident were his fellow committeemen, Thomas E. Bouchey, Frank W. Crocker, H. L. Sherman, and Selby Coon. To facilitate building of the float, Sydney H. Davidson, principal of the Newport Harbor Union High school, has offered use of the high school shops.

Costa Mesa Baby Clinic Planned

COSTA MESA.—The well-baby clinic, sponsored by the child welfare department of the Friday afternoon club, will hold its regular November meeting from 2 to 4 p. m. Monday, with Dr. Russell, assistant county health officer, and a county nurse will be present to make examinations.

This will be the first meeting since September, the October meeting date having fallen on a legal holiday.

El Modena Man Called By Death

ORANGE.—John Jaque, 50, died early Thursday at St. Joseph's hospital. He was unmarried, and had lived on his orange ranch near El Modena for 22 years. He was born in Spain and came to the United States when 4 years old.

The only survivors are an uncle and several cousins, his parents having died here some years ago. Funeral services, in charge of the Gilgoly Funeral home, will be announced later.

29 Join Mesa County Library

COSTA MESA.—Miss Sarah Conant, custodian of the Orange county branch library here has reported a total of 29 new members secured during October. Twenty of this number were adults.

There were 1135 loans of adult fiction, 527 non-fiction, 333 juvenile and 352 periodicals and pamphlets, a total of 2346 during the month, she said.

COURAGE VISITS
LAGUNA BEACH.—Gar Courage, well known writer and illustrator, whose literary efforts are principally devoted to different phases of animal life, is spending a brief vacation with Dan Cunningham, local writer.

His Ballot Cost $500

ORANGE.—Instead of the usual annual feed given to members of the high school football teams by the Rotary club, the club this year is presenting each boy on both varsity and B teams with a ticket to the U. S. C. U. of C. football game next Saturday in the coliseum at Los Angeles. Transportation will be made by school buses, it was announced by M. M. Fishback, boys' principal, and program chairman of the club.

The speaker at the Thursday noon meeting of the club was Dr. Bob Brown Mason, who spoke on "Elections in Germany Before and After Hitler." He traced the nine elections held in the period of German democracy, and pointed out that there were 19 political parties, each with a special interest to serve.

Today the value of an election in Germany is merely to show the outside world the people are behind Hitler, he affirmed. But the world mistrusts a 99 per cent electoral majority, he added. Only foreign policies are given a vote of confidence, domestic policies never appearing on the ballot, he added.

Tom Douglas was program chairman and Clyde Watson was congratulated on his election to the state assembly.

P. T. A. COUNCIL PLAN SAN JUAN ROTARY CLUB

ORANGE.—The Orange Parent-Teachers Community club will meet Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Earl Smith, and after a noon luncheon heard a discussion by C. I. Thomas, superintendent of elementary schools, on removal of crossing guards at school crossings. The council considered plans to see to have them returned but no official action was taken.

Mrs. Oliver Wickersheim, president, reported on meetings of the coordinating council of P. T. A. last week at Los Angeles. Hostesses were Mesdames Earl Wood, Vern O. Estes, C. A. Palmer and Iva E. Lee.

Other council members present were Mesdames O. J. Linnartz and A. W. Mellica, Olive; Marion Flippen, J. F. Sorenson and Iva E. Lee. El Modena, Naomi Schulz, Silverado; Wilbur Nave, William Dyer, Arthur Hobson, Glen Reck, August Pestolesi, H. J. Joost, Faye Erwin and W. J. Breen, Orange.

Musicians Give Harbor Program

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—Under the direction of Miss Hiebach, the music department of Harbor High school presented an assembly in the school auditorium Wednesday. The orchestra, boys' and girls' glee clubs, girls sextet and boys' double quartet all took part.

At this time awards were presented by Principal Sidney Davidson to winners in the poster contest, Maureen McClintock and Elsie Lee Huffine winning first and second places.

Grove Masons Slate Election

GARDEN GROVE.—Election of officers with reports of the recent grand lodge session at Sacramento will feature a meeting of the Garden Grove chapter, Order of Eastern Star to be held at 8 o'clock Thursday evening in the Odd Fellows' hall at Anaheim.

GRAVE MEAT PROBLEM IN GERMANY

Hitler Is Faced With Task of Finding It For 67,000,000

BERLIN. (AP)—A man who eats no meat at all must find it for 67,000,000 Germans this winter. Everyone in Germany knows Adolf Hitler is a vegetarian. Yet millions of good Nazis show no intention of aping his diet.

The mere whisper of a pork shortage sends shivers of dread through many of the population. Hitler has never told the nation it would be better off without meat, nor has he sponsored any kind of a vegetarian movement.

He has at times dropped sarcastic remarks about people who complain over the monthly "meatless" dinner every German is expected to serve in his home, the money thus saved going to the benefit of the winter relief fund.

"What? You grumble because once a month your Sunday dinner is a one-dish meal?" Der Fuehrer has asked. "Why, many and many a time in the early years of our struggle we had to go all day Sunday on a piece of bread!"

Even the monthly one-dish meal, frugal as it sounds in theory, is no more a hardship for the meat eater than a promise to consume, once a month, something cooked all together in one pot, like Irish stew.

Raps Finicky Ones
Hitler does, however encourage his lieutenants to deride the meat eater who must have the kind of meat he wants when he wants it, and the housewife who scorns all but the choice cuts.

In East Prussia the butchers' guild broadcast an appeal to meat eaters against "outlet mania." There's many a good piece of meat on an animal beside the cutlets, the guild explained.

What might happen if the German people were forced into vegetarianism by the meat scarcity is anybody's guess. At any rate, they are confidently relying on Hitler, the vegetarian, to prevent it.

OLD MELODIES ON THE AIR

For those who enjoy old melodies and light classics, tonight's "Out of the Past to You" presentation on KVOE at 8 o'clock and "The Serenader" at 10:45 will hit the spot.

The 8 o'clock program, a variety presentation, will include such melodies as "The Swan," by Saint-Saens; "La Cinqtaine," "Ave Maria" and "Aloha Oe."

Richard Aurandt, "The Serenader," will offer an even wider variety of melodies at 10:45 with "Oh What a Pal Was Mary," "My Man," "A Kiss From You," "Kashmir Song" and "Leybach's Fifth Nocturne." The "Serenader" is scheduled nightly except Sundays at the same hour, and week-day mornings at 7 o'clock.

Americans in Spain Evacuated

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The state department was advised yesterday that 17 more American citizens had been evacuated from Spain by the cruiser Raleigh, flagship of the newly-created American naval squadron in European waters.

The group, including men, women and children, was taken aboard the warship at Valencia and landed in Marseille, France.

DANCE TUNES FEATURED ON KVOE

Tonight's Program to Offer 'Hollywood Lens' Review

Dance music of the best variety will be available on KVOE during the early evening hours tonight, starting at 7 o'clock with the music of Tom Collins and his Peacock Court orchestra.
At 7:30, Paul Martin and the studio orchestra will furnish music for the Hollywood review, "Through the Hollywood Lens," featuring spinnings from the pen of the Hollywood reporter who will have some dope on an airplane load of chorines, designated as "Gold Digger" of 1937—with reservations.

String Ensemble Plays Tonight

The Salon String ensemble will be heard at an early hour on KVOE this evening when they offer a half-hour series of "Sketches in Melody" beginning at 6 o'clock.
Included in the presentation will be Drigo's lovely "Serenade," "In the Gloaming," "Swanee River," "Robin Adair," Schubert's "Serenade" and others.

Star Farmer

Clayton Hackman, Jr., 19, of Myerstown, Pa., who received the Kansas City Weekly Star's $500 award at the American Royal Livestock show in Kansas City, as star farmer of America for 1936. His record was chosen by the Future Farmers of America as best among 100,000 vocational agricultural high school students. He showed a profit of $1,890.15 on 101 acres.

CHINESE REDS FREE L. A. MAN

KWEISU, Suiyan Province, China. (AP)—Cimarron Hathaway, who described himself as a Los Angeles explorer and photographer, reported yesterday he had been held 116 days by Communists in northern Sinkiang province.

Hathaway declared he was arrested at Tihwa and accused of espionage. He said he was imprisoned in solitary confinement and tortured in an effort to obtain a confession.

The Communists finally released him, he said, after he had gone on a hunger strike in protest against his treatment.

FINGER OF DEATH POINTS AT ELEVEN VICTIMS IN ORANGE COUNTY

TRAFFIC WILL TAKE 77 BY NEW YEAR

Statistics Reveal 6.4 Lives Crushed Out Each Month

The finger of death is pointed at 11 people in Orange county. Statistics show they are scheduled to die slow, torturing deaths or have their bodies crushed and their lives snuffed out in a moment.

They will die in traffic accidents by Jan. 1.

Sixty-six already have been crushed, mangled by flying glass, jagged steel of hurtling motor cars this year. Last year 60 were killed in 12 months. This year already has surpassed that number by six.

Danger Signs Ahead

Ten months in 1936 saw 64 human beings perish in Orange county traffic — more than six per month. Twelve months at this rate — 6.4 a month — will bring practically 77 deaths.

Eleven more — at least — will perish if that rate continues.

Perhaps more.

Football season. Gay, enthusiastic crowds of youngsters zipping along highway, to and from games. Partly-sober adults returning from after-game celebrations.

Speed and Carelessness

Rainy weather. Headless drivers, skidding, overturning cars. Death and crippling injury to dozens.

Little children crying pitifully, their tender bones snapped, their delicate features battered because someone was careless.

Last year's black record of 60 deaths averaged five a month. At that rate, this year's total would reach 75.

19 in One Month

But the rate this year is higher — perhaps it will rise even more before the New Year.

Or will this year's grave markers grow even more numerous? Will there be another month like July, when 19 lives were ended? That month a young husband and his bride of but a few hours; and three children, aged 4, 9, and 13 years, were included in the grisly toll. There were 14 others in July.

Death Reaches

Speed on dark highways over week ends — those three factors result in the most fatal accidents, the California Highway patrol reports.

Careful driving can eliminate most of those dangers, they add.

But sixty-six have perished because those factors and others were neglected.

Death will reach for 11 more. Perhaps 12, or 13, or 20 more, if he gets a chance.

JAYSEE GROUP TO LEAD IN CONCLAVE

International Relations Session Attended by Twelve Students

Twelve students will represent Santa Ana Junior college at the sixth conference of the Pacific Southwest International Relations clubs today and Saturday at Occidental college. This is the first time a junior college has been given a discussion group in this conference. The local group will lead one of the discussions.

To Discuss Crisis
The University of Southern California, University of California at Los Angeles, San Diego State, Arizona, Santa Barbara State, Chapman college, and many more colleges have representatives at the conclave.

The theme of this year's conference is "The Crisis in International Organization." The two day program includes the discussion groups, luncheons, featured addresses and a dance.

The topic to be led by local students is the "New Pan-Americanism," concerning the Monroe doctrine as an American policy rather than a United States policy, according to L. L. Beeman, social science instructor.

Local Student Leads

Robert Forcey, president of Phi Sigma Alpha, led today's discussion for Santa Ana, while Elbert Stewart will be the leader Saturday.

Main speaker for the two-day conference is Dr. Josef L. Kunz, formerly of the University of Vienna and now lecturer on international law at the University of Toledo, Ohio. He is now in the United States as a Rockefeller foundation fellow.

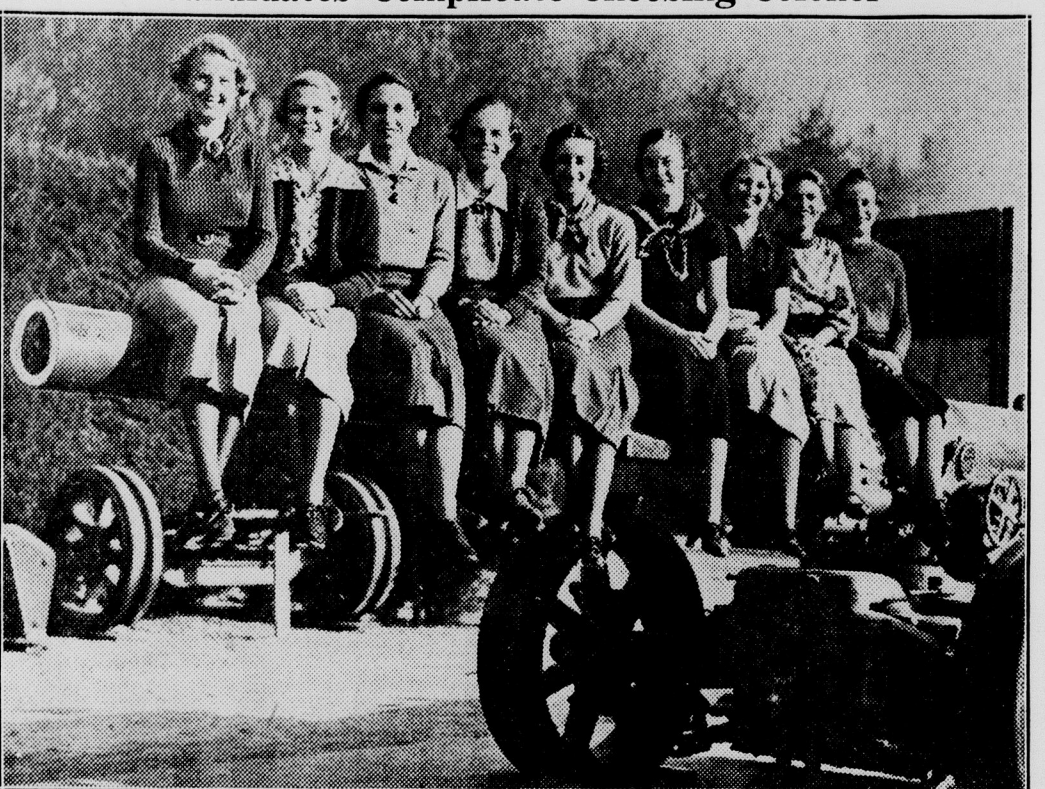

In announcing Dr. Kunz as main speaker, it was explained that he is well qualified inasmuch as he is a member of American and German societies of international law as well as of the International Law association of London. He has written many books and articles, and is a permanent collaborator for several journals of international law in the United States and Europe.

Topics Listed

Other discussion topics scheduled were: "Colonial New Deal," with San Diego State college as the discussion leader, and "Storms Over Asia," with the University of Southern California leading. Chapman college will enter discussion on the "Control of International Economic Relations." Whittier college has been assigned to discuss "Competing Internationalism." "Implementary International Organizations" will be discussed by international relations students from U. C. L. A.

Candidates Complicate Choosing Colonel

Three Hostesses Usher in Series of Luncheons With Party at Country Club

Lakewood Is Beautiful Setting

Fifty-Five Guests Are Invited to Bridge Afternoon

Receiving their guests in the beautiful lobby of Lakewood Country club, its charm enhanced by artistic arrangements of fall flowers, Mrs. Gilbert Campbell, Mrs. Walter Vandermast and Mrs. Walter Prince presided jointly yesterday at a delightful luncheon and bridge afternoon for fifty-five of their friends.

Assisting them in their hostess duties throughout the afternoon were Mrs. George Baker, Mrs. Franklin West, Mrs. George Scovel and Mrs. Milburn Harvey, who were among the guests invited to the pretty affair.

The three hostesses were in formal afternoon frocks, Mrs. Campbell of blue velvet with cerise roses at the neckline, Mrs. Vandermast in black velvet with accents of silver, and Mrs. Prince in rust crepe with accessories to match.

Bright Colors Combined

When all their guests had assembled, they were invited to the sunroom, where one whole side of glass lent its view of the greens and the surrounding country to the beauty of the setting. Two long tables painted green and spread with yellow linens, were in bright contrast to the red tile floor and the yellow chairs, and bowls of orange and rust chrysanthemums and tapers shading from yellow to bronze carried the same colors into the luncheon appointments.

After a most delicious luncheon, the guests returned to the lobby where nine tables had been set up for contract bridge, the diversion for the remainder of the afternoon. The hostesses concluded their hospitality with the awarding of three prizes, high going to Mrs. Harvey, second to Mrs. Richard Couden, and third to Mrs. Charles Kendall. All were lovely crystal gifts.

Fifty-Five Invited

Invited to this first of a series of parties which Mrs. Prince and Mrs. Vandermast plan to continue jointly and Mrs. Campbell individually, were the following:

Mesdames Don Andrews, James Allen, J. F. Burke, George S. Briggs, C. B. Bellows, E. B. Burns, C. D. Brown, George Baker, Alex. Brownridge, Marguerite Borgmeyer, L. L. Carden, Ray S. Chandler, Byron Curry, L. Collier, C. D. Couden, C. V. Davis, H. T. Duckett, Mesdames O. H. Egge, A. G. Flagg, P. E. Farnsworth, George Favey, W. J. Gould, Milburn Harvey, J. P. Girl Reserve Recognition Services to Be Sunday

Candlelight services at the vesper hour Sunday afternoon will mark the official recognition of 130 new Girl Reserves in the local branch of the organization, according to plans made known today by Miss Mary Porter, executive secretary.

The impressive ceremonies will be held from 3:45 to 5 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church, with the new and all present and former members invited to take part. Parents and friends of the Girl Reserves are also extended an invitation to attend.

"World Fellowship" Joining with Y. W. C. A. organizations all over the world, a "World Fellowship" theme will be observed in the afternoon program, ushering in World Fellowship week.

An organ prelude is to open the vesper service, Mary Bruner Ferny playing an appropriate professional, and the choir of the Tri-Y's and alumni, directed by Miss Clara Ellen Spelman, will sing a group of numbers.

To introduce speaker The speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Kyle Rodenbaeck of Claremont, will be presented by Miss Betty Neff, president of the high school Tri-Y's. Mrs. Rodenbaeck, who was formerly national student secretary of the Y. W. C. A. and for many years identified with the work, is now living in Claremont with her family and taking intense interest in world affairs and promotion of world peace.

After her address, Miss Barbara Rowell, Tri-Y membership chairman, will give a short introductory talk and, with the assistance of presidents of the junior high Girl Reserves, will conduct the candlelighting ceremony.

Choir selection and benediction will close the program with a candle recession at the conclusion.

P.-T. A. Has New High Record

Fourteen hundred ninety-three members is the total membership to date in the 15 Santa Ana Parent-Teacher associations, according to reports given yesterday at the meeting of the Parent-Teacher council, presided over by Mrs. John J. Mills in the board of education building.

This figure tops by 72 the total for the entire year of the 1935-36 season, giving promise of a new high record before the close of this year next spring.

Membership in the 15 local associations are as follows: Edison, 80; Willard, 167; Franklin, 72; High school, 74; Hoover, 68; Jefferson, 128; Lathrop, 122; junior college, 37; Lincoln, 58; Lowell, 164; Roosevelt, 68; Spurgeon, 190; Wilson, 101; McKinley, 129.

Approve New Idea

The council also ratified appointment of Frank Was as its new safety chairman, moving to sponsor a safety committee and to favor a course of instruction in automobile driving, consisting of teaching road laws and road courtesy, being placed in the local schools, preferably in the junior high schools. The matter will be referred to each of the local P.-T. A.'s for discussion, and members of Mr. Was' committee will be asked to speak before some of the units.

Superintendent Speaks

Superintendent of Schools Frank Henderson spoke on the Armistice Day parade in which three groups of girls from the high school and the two junior high schools, in their respective uniforms will march, numbering 265 girls in all. He also asked parents to visit the schools during American Education Week, November 8 to 15, to see how American schools stand, to use the pamphlets and stickers which their children will bring home.

Mrs. Mills read Mrs. Harry C. Brown's report on the coordination council meeting recently in Los Angeles, in the absence of the latter, and announced the Fourth District P.-T. A. meeting which will be November 19 in Anaheim.

All Parent-Teacher associations of the city were represented at the council meeting. The next session will be December 1, at 9:30 a. m., in the same place.

Book Review Of the Week

By JOHN SELBY

Ireland has a diverse lot of interpreters, and it is up to you whether you choose a James Joyce or a William Butler Yeats or a Francis Stuart. Or one of the bloodier writers—

Today, fresh from the warm unrelenting interplay of emotion and incident Stuart sets up almost from the first page. This is as much the essence of Ireland as is the fabric of life with these three. The salt smell of the Atlantic mingles in the reader's mind with the peaty smell of Ireland; the curious balance between the earthly and the fey in the two boys is part of the picture, as is the peculiarly direct relationship between man and the things of nature.

Should you, after finishing "The White Hare," want more about the Irish background, try Helen Landreth's "Dear Dark Head." The title sounds as if it announced a sentimental novel, and there is plenty of sentiment in the book, as a matter of fact. But really Miss Landreth has written a history of Ireland designed to interpret the land and the people to the world, and it's rather a good job.

HONORS HUSBAND AT BIRTHDAY PARTY

Holly berries and chrysanthemums gave an autumnal note to the decorations in the rooms where the hostess, as a prelude to the evening's bridge play, served open-faced sandwiches and punch.

When the bridge games were over and prizes awarded to Mrs. Warren Bramley and Cleland Harbaugh for high scores and to Mr. Bramley for low, Mrs. Smith, assisted by Mrs. Harbaugh, served raspberry and chocolate sundaes, coffee, and a birthday cake. During this refreshment interval, the guests presented birthday gifts to their hosts.

Those present besides Mr. and Mrs. Smith were Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Browning, Mr. and Mrs. Harbaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Gerrard, Mr. and Mrs. Bramley, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Story, Mrs. Ruth Berry and Elmer Petersen.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

By MYRTLE GAYLORD Sylvia of Hollywood's new book, "Pull Yourself Together Baby," contains breezily written advice to the woman who wants to develop "personality." It deals with diet, exercise, clothes, makeup and manners. Cultivation of the mind is not mentioned. Maybe, Sylvia's right. But we like to think that what a woman puts in her head is far more important than what she puts on her head.

"It is the lady who expects orchids who gets them," says Marjorie Hillis, the writer. Not if the lady's expecting 'em from friend husband on her wedding anniversary, Marjorie.

American girls who have the notion that foreigners are better sweethearts than the hometown boys, should give the little Jachin Daniel's article in Delinquent: "I envy American women," says the Parisian writer. "Love is more economical in France than America. A Frenchman thinks, 'A kiss at the right time spares many expensive flowers.'" No matter how beautifully a man kisses you, if he's doing it to save money it isn't so romantic.

Most women need a little rouge. Most women use too much. Next time you're applying the war paint remember this. Makeup conceals the natural expression of the face. If you don't believe this, look up the life of Eleanor Duse, the great Italian actress. She discarded makeup on the stage because she learned her face was more expressive without it.

"Woman manages to live with man. Without a sense of humor this would certainly be impossible."—Margery Lawrence in Woman's Digest

Mrs. Norton In Bridal Courtesy

A single pale green taper in a flowerlike holder of clear cellophane centered each of the small tables at which Mrs. Norton seated guests in her home at 805 South Parton last night when she entertained in honor of Miss Barbara Horton.

The party, one of the pre-nuptial courtesies which are preceding Miss Horton's wedding on Thanksgiving Day, was in the nature of a miscellaneous shower for the bride-to-be.

Dessert was served soon after the guests had assembled, all appointments for the refreshment course, as well as for the bridge tables, being carried out in a bridal motif of white and green.

Two bright color accents in the room were a lovely potted begonia and a bowl of Chinese lilies.

Adding of tales at the close of the playing gave first prize to Mrs. George Horton, who received a bottle of cologne as her award. Second prize, a creamer and sugar bowl, went to Mrs. A. Tisnerat, and the traveling award, a pottery set, and a paper set was won by Miss Betty Wiswall.

After the bridge games, the gifts were brought in and presented to the honored guest, who received many beautiful things for her hope chest and her new home.

LE DEJEUNER ENTERTAINS AT BENEFIT

Le Dejeuner club members entertained at seven tables of bridge and two of 500 when they gave a benefit party Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. W. B. McConnell, 1218 Orange avenue.

The party was truly a "doggy" one, with little black Scotties sitting all about on the score pads and tallies.

Five rounds of cards were enjoyed, with prizes in bridge at the close going to Mrs. Flossie Bettis, high and to Helen Wheeler, second. Five hundred awards were won by Mrs. Emma Reed and Mrs. Mary Hansen, first and second.

Gingerbread and whipped cream and coffee were served after cards, with more dog appointments in evidence. Credit for the unique effect went to the Mesdames Edna McConnell, Helen Corrad, and Grace Morgan, the decorating committee.

Present at the party were the Mesdames Marion Wallace, Jessie Robinson, Eva McConnell, Betty Hillman, Bess Browning, Helen Corrad, Betty Harbaugh, Carrie Peck, W. H. Trust, Grace Morgan, Bradley Turnbull, Flossie Bennett, Cecile Turner, Vivian Smith, Erma Baxter, Nancy Corbin, Leone Baxter, Lucille Knight, Edna McConnell, Della P. Miller, Martha Gunn, Helen Preston, Maxine Reeves, Hazel Story, May Hansen, Alice Garlick, Nellie Reeves, Emma Reed, and Ruby Archer.

ARTIST IS DINNER GUEST

Miss Clara Cronenwett, internationally known lecturer, writer, and artist in flower arrangement, was honored guest at an informal little dinner party here last evening, before giving her monthly lecture in the local night school.

Miss Margery Button and Donald Button entertained her as their guest at dinner in their home at 1617 1/2 Spurgeon street, with Arthur Ames, Santa Ana artist, as another guest, the group later attending her class at Willard auditorium.

MISSISSIPPI VISITORS HERE

Mrs. J. C. Sexton of 1407 Spurgeon street has as her houseguests for several weeks Mrs. W. C. Spear and small daughter, Martha Sue, of Indiana, Miss, who returned with her at the end of her six-weeks trip to Mississippi and Kentucky. The Speers will remain for more than a month, and several delightful affairs are being planned in their honor.

GIRL RESERVES IN GAY PARTY

Eighth grade Girl Reserves of Julia Lathrop Junior High school chose the home of the L. E. Platt home on Paulmar as setting for their Halloween party.

Games, costumes, and refreshments were all in keeping with the theme, and a fortune teller added to the fun. Mrs. Marjorie Crumrine, their leader, was among the guests.

Puncture vine, a weed which troubled Mediterranean countries in the earliest historic times, is now wreaking heavy damage in the American Southwest.

Mary Stoddard Wife Should Consider Future Morality of Children, Not Only Own Problems

By MARY STODDARD

Another point of view on the problem presented last week by "Discouraged Wife," came to my attention in today's mail. We have been so busy thinking in terms of the neglected wife, and how she can teach her husband a good lesson that we haven't really considered the thing that should come first of all—her children. Now someone, Mrs. M. R., suggests that it is very possible that those seven youngsters are being brought up with the wrong sort of actions going on in front of them. Children are extremely smart, as a rule, and father's flagrant infidelities are not going to escape them long.

What if, instead of resenting such things because of the way they affect their mother, those children see that she condones his actions, and consequently think that they are free to perform in the same manner?

It bears thinking of, "Discouraged Wife."

Here is the letter:

Dear Miss Stoddard: For the sake of "Discouraged Wife" I'll relate a story of a woman friend, the mother of 10 children, who had a husband just like this one. He had been doing the same way for over 12 years, always promising to do better, but kept on just the same.

This woman thought "For the sake of my children who need a father's care, I'll grin and bear it."

But a day of reckoning came from a source totally unexpected. One of her own children, the oldest son, was the cause of a trusting sweet young girl to become heartbroken. This girl was the daughter of the boy's mother's friend. The boy wouldn't right the wrong, so the girl came to his mother. When she asked him to do the manly thing, he said, "Mother, who are you to ask such a thing of me? Haven't you sanctioned dad's running around and doing the very same thing? You are as guilty in my eyes as he."

What a shock to that poor mother! She immediately donned her hat and coat and went to the courthouse and applied for a divorce—she who had looked upon divorce with disdain. Her husband pleaded and begged for another chance, but it had become an old story. The welfare of her children came first before the love (so-called) of a faithless, worthless husband.

The morals and respect of our children come before bread and butter. Of course not all children will reason as this boy did, but is the chance worth taking?

I've always said I'd never condone divorce under any circumstances, but when this mother told me her story I realized the seriousness of flagrant infidelity.

EBELL THIRD HOUSEHOLD GROUP MEETS

Having luncheon first in the section room of the Ebells clubhouse, Ebells third household economy section took up the subjects of "Inheritance" and "The Weather" at their regular meeting which followed.

Mrs. F. M. Robinson, who with Mrs. B. B. Kellogg and Mrs. Stella Menges were hostesses, gave an interesting paper on "Inheritance," and Mrs. W. B. Risk and Mrs. C. F. Bennett read papers on the other topic. The latter two and Mrs. W. L. Leiby were in charge of entertainment. Discussion followed the interesting talks.

"Rare Books" will be the subject of the next program of this section.

TUX 'N GOWN

Santa Ana Country club will be the setting for tomorrow night for Tux 'N Gown club's first formal dance of the season. Music will start at 9:30 o'clock, and the dance will be a program affair.

After-Effect Of Measles Serious

By CLAUD N. CHRISMAN, M. D.

Of all childhood diseases, measles is one of the most serious in its consequences. It is also the disease most neglected and least feared by the public. The result of this indifferent attitude is that disabilities following measles are greater than in most of the so-called more serious children's diseases.

Measles is extremely contagious; rarely does any child exposed to it escape regrettable consequences. Unfortunately the most contagious period is before the eruption appears and before the presence of the disease is recognized.

Measles is conveyed by direct contact with one having it or through articles that have been contaminated by secretions from the throat, nose or eyes of the first sufferer.

The time between exposure and the first appearance of symptoms is from eight to 12 days. The first sign of trouble is the flush of fever. It may be slight or severe, followed by catarrhal symptoms of the nose and eyes, with profuse weeping, a rasping, hacking cough and possibly sick stomach.

Fever often lasts but a few hours and the child appears better. About four days after the first fever appears, there is a return with an increase in the severity of the catarrhal and other symptoms. Within a few hours eruption appears on the neck behind the ears and at the edges of the hair line. This spreads rapidly over the body and by the third day is fading on the face and has reached the feet.

The cough is dry, hoarse and convulsive. As the eruption fades, other signs fade and unless complications develop recovery is rapid.

It is in the period between the first fever and its catarrh and the appearance of the eruption that the ground is sown for complications. The old custom of hot baths or covering with blankets to produce sweating and bring out the rash often leads to chilling and pneumonia. The rash will appear in four days regardless of the baths. The eye infection may cause ulcer, chronic irritation or permanent weakness.

Infection of the middle ear is common. Gastro-intestinal complications are common. At the first sign of the disease the patient should be placed in bed and kept there till all symptoms have disappeared. Irrigation of the eyes, nose and throat with boric acid solution aids in preventing more serious troubles.

Even though this cunning youngster has just broken her dolly, she'll find consolation in her dainty, new frock! Mother is delighted with pattern 9926, for it's as simple as can be to make, and its complete diagrammed sew chart is a valuable aid! This fetching Marian Martin style is just the kind an active little girl of 2 to 10 will need, for its trim collar and full pleats will "stay put," while the gay puffed sleeves add a saucy touch! Don't overlook the matching bloomers, for they're just the thing to keep her comfy and warm on a nippy winter day! Select bright, washable fabric if possible; challis, serge, gayly sprigged chambray, or for parties, a satin-finish cotton broadcloth. Choose bright wooden buttons.

Pattern 9926 may be ordered only in sizes 2, 4, 6, 8 and 10. Size 6 requires 2 1/2 yards 36-inch fabric. Send 15 cents in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for each Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and style number.

Be Sure to State Size
Write at once for the new issue of Marian Martin pattern book! Don't wait another minute to get this new book filled with smart, modern and advanced styles in frocks, suits and blouses for the workaday morning, the brighter afternoon or the glamorous evening. Scores of suggestions on accessories, fabrics and gifts, too. Book is only 15 cents. Pattern, too, is but 15 cents. Twenty-five cents for both when ordered together.

Send your order to The Santa Ana Journal, Pattern Department, 117 East Fifth Street, Santa Ana.

CHURCH SOCIETY HAS MEETING

The Women's Missionary society of the United Presbyterian church met Wednesday at the church and occupied the morning hours with quilting and sewing.

After a noon luncheon served by Mrs. A. C. Hasenjaeger, Mrs. A. Nelson and Mrs. Pearl McBurney, Mrs. O. S. Johnston gave an interesting account of a visit to a Kentucky mountain school maintained by missionary societies.

Mrs. W. S. Kennedy, president, introduced Mrs. Fred Russell, who as guest of honor, related many incidents of her residence in Addis Ababa.

The thanks offering was in charge of Mrs. Scott Tarrans, and Mrs. A. E. Kelly led the devotional service. Offerings were made while marching to music played by Mrs. Eleanor Fish.

HONOREE GIVEN HANDKERCHIEFS

When a group of friends gathered last evening at the home of Mrs. John McFarland, 2212 Maple street, it was to enjoy a session of monopoly and later surprise Mrs. Leonard Hafer with a number of dainty handkerchiefs in honor of her birthday anniversary.

Late in the evening refreshments were served at three small tables carrying out a pink and green color scheme, as did the imposing birthday cake baked by Mrs. Norman Cowdry.

Guests of Mrs. McFarland were the Mesdames Howard McHenry, Earl Lepper, Norman Cowdry, Stewart Gibbs, Sid Messenger, James Province, James Sullivan, Lloyd Ozburn, Lawrence Brown and the honoree, Mrs. Leonard Hafer.

CHANEY SPEAKS ON 'PEACE'
Quilting was the recreation of women of the First Christian church during the morning session of their Wednesday all-day meeting.

After a lunch served by a committee working under Mrs. T. D. Knight, the meeting was turned over to the Rev. W. S. Buchanan, who conducted a short Bible study. Mrs. C. E. Price, president, led a business meeting, and devotionals were conducted by Mrs. Thomas Williams.

The feature of the afternoon program was a stirring talk on "Peace," by Homer Chaney, who was introduced by Mrs. M. D. Haskell, program chairman.

Accompanied by Mr. Walters, the trip took them first to Oakland, where they were joined by one sister, Mrs. Guy Gardner, and thence to Central City, Neb., to be joined by two more, Mrs. Carl Hansen and Mrs. Harry Powell.

Mr. Walters remained in that city with relatives while the four sisters continued to Fremont, Neb., to pick up another sister, Mrs. Joe Beatty, for the trip to Florida.

On the way south, they visited the larger cities of Missouri, Kentucky, Tennessee and Georgia, and points of interest in the state of Florida.

In Bradenton, they spent two weeks with the sixth sister, Mrs. George Stafford, before starting back to their homes. Mr. Walters joining his wife in Nebraska for the trip home. The sisters in the East have all visited the Walters here and have many friends in the city.

EASTERN STAR TO ELECT
Santa Ana chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star will elect new officers for the coming year when it meets next Monday night for a 6:30 o'clock covered dish supper in the Masonic temple. Mrs. John Bruns will preside.

RUMMAGE AND FOOD
Orange Avenue Christian church women's council will continue its rummage sale and cooked food and candy booth throughout tomorrow at 208 East Fourth street. Specializing in pumpkin pies and candy, the sale opened this morning for a successful first day.

Make Up For Evening

By JACQUELINE HUNT

Your face should be as flawless and as carefully arranged as your coiffure. To insure a pleasing, even job, start using a good tinted foundation cream or lotion—the latter if your skin is inclined to be oily. Try to find one that blends with the natural tones of your skin.

Apply a little rouge and fluff on powder with enough warm color to give it life and enrich your natural coloring. Rouge and lipstick should be soft and creamy in shade, as well as soft in shade. Finally use a cream mascara, brushing it on a little at a time to make your lashes appear thicker, but soft and flattering.

You will need a newer, dreamier perfume for your grandest gowns. The loveliest perfume I have found recently is truly and typically Oriental. Warm, exquisite and mysterious—warm with musky undertones, mysterious as the weird and beautiful city of Shanghai that inspired it.

For that daytime costumes choose something brisker. It may be a tantalizing bouquet for your cocktail gown or a pleasingly simple flower fragrance for your suit or less formal costume.

LAS FELICITAS HAS VISITORS FROM ILLINOIS

Mrs. J. E. Braden was hostess to Las Felicitas club members yesterday when the members met in her home at 108 Buffalo for an interesting book review program.

After the dainty dessert course, served at small tables each centered with chrysanthemums, Mrs. Thomas Harris, one of the members, reviewed Du Bos Heyward's book "That Lost Morning," giving a clear and concise account of the story.

Guests sharing the day with the club group yesterday were Mrs. Andrew Smith, mother of Mrs. Braden, and Mrs. W. H. Dodds, mother of Mr. Braden, who arrived together recently from Decatur, Ill., to spend Thanksgiving with their son and daughter.

Plans were completed for a dinner bridge at the Hotel Laguna Nov. 13, when husbands will be honor guests, and for the next meeting, Nov. 19 at the home of Mrs. Harris, 511 West Nineteenth street, with current events for the program.

Present at yesterday's meeting were the Mesdames Thomas Harris, Guy Penn, Howard Taylor, Lewis Williams and the hostess, all of Santa Ana. Mrs. Albert Raymond of Anaheim, Mrs. Henry Schwamborn of Laguna Beach, and two Illinois visitors.

TRIP REUNITES SIX SISTERS IN FLORIDA

Six sisters, one a Santa Ana and the other five recent visitors in the city, had a delightful reunion in Bradenton, Fla., which was the ultimate destination of Mrs. Henry Walters of 1605 East Fourth street when she left here last Sept. 26.

Accompanied by Mr. Walters, the trip took them first to Oakland, where they were joined by one sister, Mrs. Guy Gardner, and thence to Central City, Neb., to be joined by two more, Mrs. Carl Hansen and Mrs. Harry Powell.

GIRL SCOUTS HAVE A HOME OF THEIR OWN

At home!

That's what the Santa Ana Girl Scouts will be saying in a few weeks when they officially move into their own little bungalow at 811 Riverine, recently acquired for their use and as headquarters for their activities.

The girls will take possession next week, after the cleaning-up process now in progress is completed; and as soon as everything is in apple pie order they plan to hold open house for their many friends.

Five rooms in this new home of theirs will provide a place for entertaining, cooking, working and playing, and will make work on their tests, especially those dealing with homekeeping, more real to the young Scouts. Here, too, they will be able to hold their meetings and store their equipment and supplies; and one room will be used to keep the office records of the troops.

The council, headed by Mrs. A. W. Rutan as commissioner, will also be able to hold its meetings in the bungalow, bringing it into closer contact with the troops.

Seventy-five local Scouts attended church services last Sunday at the United Presbyterian church as a part of national Girl Scout week, saving other celebration plans until after they move into their new home.

WORLD WIDE GUILD MAKING BABY QUILTS

World Wide Guild of the First Baptist church will meet at 5:30 o'clock next Tuesday in the church, each member to bring a paper bag supper to go with the cocoa which will be served. Initiation ceremonies will be conducted for Irene Chambers chapter, the youngest of the circles, in the evening, and the quilts will be finished.

At the recent meetings of the four chapters, the girls were honored by visits from Mrs. Clyde Cave, their counselor, and Mrs. Carleton Garnett, the guild's White Cross director.

Baby quilts for the mission work were made and will be finished at a general meeting next Tuesday.

CHURCH WOMEN HAVE MEETING

The November meeting of the Spurgeon Memorial missionary society held Wednesday afternoon was included in the annual missionary society week of prayer.

A Bible lesson from Exodus, given by Mrs. George Preble, and a short questionnaire on topics from the "World Outlook" featured the morning session.

The afternoon was commenced with devotions conducted by Mrs. A. A. Jones. This included several hymns, Bible reading by Mrs. Sam Butler and a prayer by Mrs. C. M. Aker.

A dialogue on work in China was given by Miss Blanch Temple and Mrs. Nell Crawford. Talks on the various projects for rural work to be financed by the week of prayer offering were given. These included a discussion of negro work near Augusta, Ga., by Mrs. T. J. Hunter; the Houman Indians at Dulac, La., by Mrs. Wilbur Johnson, and the Cajano, a mixed race in southern Alabama, by Mrs. Robert Kennedy.

JUSTAMERE CLUB PLAYS COOTIE

Mrs. J. H. Farrell entertained members of the Justamere club Wednesday at her home on Evergreen, serving a prettily appointed luncheon before the cootie games. Prizes for the day went to Mrs. Agnes Hopkins, first, Mrs. Lillian Endres, second, and to Mrs. F. S. Paul, a guest of the club, low.

Others present were Mrs. P. Nordstrom, also a guest, and the Mesdames Nellie Bell, Clara Daniels, W. R. Ellis, Beattie Gleason, M. M. Hansen, Lena Hansen, Eltha Mustard, and Pearl Nelson, and the hostess.

Smoked Meats Ideal For Fall

By JUDITH WILSON

There's a closer connection between the weather and human appetites than many realize. We probably eat just as much during the warm weather as we do when days are frosty, but appetites are keener now and we get a lot more fun out of eating.

Of the foods that become popular at this season, smoked meats and pork sausage probably lead the list.

Shoulder in Cider

Have the butcher bone a smoked pork shoulder for you. It should weigh about 4 pounds after boning. Tie securely and cook slowly for about 2 1/2 hours. Remove from the liquid, saving the stock for split pea soup, cool, untie and remove skin. Tie again. Mix the following savories—1 tablespoon parsley and 1/2 teaspoon thyme, minced, 1 clove garlic, minced, 1/4 bayleaf, crumbled, 1/4 teaspoon marjoram, 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard, 2 tablespoons brown sugar and 1 tablespoon tarragon vinegar. Rub over the meat. Put 1 cup cider in the roasting pan and bake the ham in a slow oven 1 hour, basting frequently with the cider. Add a little more cider occasionally as that you started with boils away. Make a sauce from the cider and drippings in the pan if you like.

MUSICAL ARTS CLUB TUESDAY

Violins are to be the inspiration for the Musical Arts club program next Tuesday at a 12:15 luncheon at the Doris Kathryn tea shop. As guest speaker, Mrs. Edith Cloyes will review the history of that musical instrument in an informal talk after luncheon, and Elwood Bear will present a violin quartet in numbers.

LUNCHEON CLUB HONORED TODAY

Using chrysanthemums in artistic arrangements on her table, Mrs. A. B. Chandler of 403 East Walnut street entertained the Entree-Sc club today at a 1 o'clock luncheon in her home.

Places were laid for 12 at one table for the luncheon hour, which was followed by several pleasant hours of needlework and social chat. Those enjoying the day were the Mesdames Claude Brown, Harry Leiby, Dean Johnston, Walter Hartman, Lawrence Kientz,

DE GLADE DAMER IN MEETING

De Glade Damer enjoyed a delightfully informal afternoon Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Henry McComb, 526 East Pine street, spending the hours at chatting and sewing with dainty refreshments at the close.

They will meet again in two weeks at the home of Mrs. William Harding, 526 South Van Ness. Charles Aubrey, Floyd Spencer, Robert Shearman, Glen Short, May Nelson, and Viva McCarter, and the hostess.

NOW, treat YOURSELF to some shoes!

Now then, probably you have bought school shoes for the children, seen that everybody else in your family has good shoes, and if you have any money left you'll maybe fix yourself up before the rains start! Lots of men we know do it just that way! Okay, man... and now's the time to look out for your own feet... perhaps a pair of Nunn-Bush ANKLE FASHIONS!

'EASY DEATH' BILL FACES ENGLAND

Parliament to Begin Mercy Plan Debate Next Month

LONDON (AP)—The tradition-steeped house of lords faced today the necessity of answering one of the most extraordinary questions in its long history:

Has the sufferer of an incurable ailment the right to select death to escape lingering pain?

The question was contained in a "mercy death" bill just introduced in parliament to authorize medical men to kill hopeless patients who want to die. Lord Ponsonby, its sponsor, thus climaxed a year's campaign by many medical and church leaders for euthanasia, "easy death."

Its author refused to discuss it except to say it provides for the death of patients whose ailments are diagnosed incurable, "at their own request" and "with proper safeguards."

He explained he introduced the bill early in the new session of parliament so that it would be discussed while the memory of the late Lord Moyne, noted physician and euthanasia advocate, still was fresh before the people.

(This is a non-political, non-partisan column, dealing in Townsend news and views, and written by a prominent Townsend leader. Any opinions which are expressed herein are not necessarily those of The Journal.)

Tomorrow night at 7 o'clock in Townsend hall, 500 West Fourth street, Santa Ana, officers of Townsend clubs of Orange County association will meet. This meeting has been postponed until then, because the election period seemed to make it desirable. Grant Henderson, president, will preside. The writer, as secretary of the association, is issuing the call for the meeting. No cards of notice WALTER R. ROBB are being sent out this time, so all officers of clubs please call attention of others of the meeting.

At 8 o'clock the same evening in the same hall, will be held an Orange county victory celebration meeting. J. H. Walsh, district organizer, is promoting this meeting and will preside. The last information the writer had was to the effect that a special speaker would be present. The candidates elected to office by the Townsendites also will be present. Every Townsendite in the county should attend this meeting and make it an outstanding Townsend gathering. You have won a signal victory. Come to this meeting with all the pride of a conqueror, for such you are. But there is still work to do. There are other worlds to conquer—all is not won yet.

Press reports state that William Lemke, the defeated Union party presidential candidate will retain his seat in congress. He has issued a statement to the effect that he will continue to work "for old age security along the principles set down by Dr. F. E. Townsend." He also gave notice that there were worthwhile principles in the Union party platform, which he would continue to support.

William Lemke is the type of man who fights for principles. Such men do not quit fighting merely because they have been given a political licking. Only weaklings and cowards desert great principles for which they have been fighting, when the going is hard. Lemke took a severe licking in the presidential race, but he is girding up his loins for a new fight. He will attack the citadels of private privilege, which function to the disadvantage of the people, with a new vim. And the Townsend plan will receive the help of his new knowledge and greater experience in the coming session of congress.

Dr. Francis E. Townsend is another unvanquished American. Because he failed in his attempt to elect William Lemke to the presidency and was frustrated in his desire to prevent the re-election of Franklin Delano Roosevelt, will not daunt his spirit. He, too, will gather his forces together for a new attempt in the coming session of congress to get consideration for the Townsend plan. He fights to maintain for the people the continued rights of freedom of the democratic form of government. He aims to secure for the people a new but entitled privilege to a just proportion of the national wealth produced by their efforts. His purpose is just. His efforts are noble. His aim at the goal of economic privilege to be accorded the people is a worthwhile ideal. In the first national election contest in behalf of the Townsend plan interests, the Townsend founder and his followers have won distinguished victories. The doctor will fight on for the Townsend plan as will also his followers. A few may lose courage and drop out. But

Nail in 'Plug' Wins Damages For Chewer

SAN DIEGO (AP)—Edwin A. Egley, Fallbrook farmer, did all right for himself in a suit to recover damages for injuries assertedly suffered when he clamped down on a nail in a plug of tobacco.

In a court settlement, Egley received enough money for a six months supply of plug cut, five new false teeth, and the tobacco containing the nail.

PRINCESS TO WED JAN. 7

AMSTERDAM (AP)—Crown Princess Juliana of the Netherlands will be married Jan. 7 at the palace, it was announced officially today.

The plump and jolly heir to The Netherlands throne, who is 28 years old, will take as her consort the German prince, Bernhard Zier Lippe-Biesterfeld.

Like Juliana, the prince is an ardent devotee of sports. He is three years younger than Juliana.

FIRST AVOCADO CAR SHIPPED

Local and other Southern California Calavo-avocado growers are now opening a promising 1936-37 harvesting and marketing season, Manager George B. Hodgkin of the Calavo Growers of California, the growers' marketing cooperative, said today. The season's first full carlot shipment arrived in Midwestern markets late this week, being the earliest first-car in many years.

This early beginning of volume movement results from both early maturity of some fruit and early creation of volume in out-of-state markets, Hodgkin said. This new crop is expected to total approximately 13,000,000 pounds for local and other calavo growers, equalling the 1935 crop record. The 900 acres of additional orchards affiliating with growers' exchange during the past year will be a powerful factor in stabilizing and strengthening 1936-37 season prices and demand, said Hodgkin.

"Distribution facilities are being greatly expanded over those of past seasons," he explained. "New sales offices are now being opened in six additional population centers of the country, bringing the total to more than 30. With increased advertising and sales activities planned in distant markets this season, it is expected that a greater proportion of the crop will be consumed outside of California than ever before."

Former Packard President Dies

DETROIT (AP)—Henry B. Joy, sr., 72, former president of the Packard Motor Car company, died of heart disease at his Grosse Pointe Farms home today.

Joy achieved fame not only as a capitalist and industrial leader but also as a sponsor of the Lincoln highway. He was born in Detroit.

For every one who does drop out there will be two new Townsendites to take his place.

The doctor may be facing jail within a few weeks. He has been cited for contempt of the Townsend congressional investigation committee. If he is brought to trial and convicted as his enemies would like, he may be placed in jail for a period. But even that will not daunt the spirit of the doctor. He will make of it a stepping stone to still greater public favor and power. That is the kind of a man who still leads the Townsend forces.

Last night this column recited the victories of the Townsendites in the county and in the 19th district. Allow me to tell you what happened over the state. Out of the 17 Townsend-endorsed congressional candidates, we elected 11. That gives us 55 per cent of the California elected congressmen who have aligned themselves with the Townsend plan. Not so bad at all. These are the Townsend-elected congressmen: Harry Englebright, second district; Frank Havenner, fourth district; Richard J. Welch, fifth district; Albert E. Carter, sixth district; John A. Toland, seventh district; John J. McGrath, eighth district; Bertrand W. Gerhart, ninth district; Henry Elbert Stubbs, tenth district; Charles Kramer, thirteenth district; John M. Costello, fifteenth district; and Harry R. Sheppard, nineteenth district.

In addition to the above Townsend-endorsed congressional candidates, John Steven McGroarty was elected from the eleventh district. He was not Townsend-endorsed but he has fought during his stay in congress for the principles of the Townsend plan. He will doubtless fall in line with the Townsend pension block in congress, to help legislate the Townsend plan into law. Counting McGroarty, there will be 12 California congressmen in the 75th congress who will favor the Townsend plan principles. Later the writer will give in this column information concerning victories achieved in other states in this week's election.

It was a great election from the standpoint of the Townsend plan interests. We did not win everything tried for, but were successful beyond what could be reasonably expected.

Skeleton of Zeppelin

A new giant airship takes form in the hangar at Friedrichshafen, Germany. The big airliner is a sister of the Hindenberg. Now known only as the LZ 130, she is expected to be ready for transatlantic travel by the Fall of 1937. This shows the steel skeleton of the ship.

Martha Meade SUGGESTS:

BARGAIN LUNCHEONS FOR BUDGETEERS!
Our grandmothers used to delight in making patchwork quilts in their spare time from all the left over scraps of dress material. A modern application of this idea eases the load on the budget as well as providing fun for the whole family. He conceals a supper dish from a scrap of this and that takes both imagination and ingenuity. But in the words of an old adage "the end justifies the means." Here are some patterns for bargain lunches:
1. Line custard cups with cooked rice or noodles and fill with small amount of left-over meat mixed with its own gravy. Steam until heated through. Serve with more gravy.
2. Small amounts of meat and vegetables may be diced and mixed together and added to cooked noodles, macaroni or spaghetti in a greased casserole. To give this dish a new twist, weave a mat of uncooked bacon and place it on top of the casserole. Bake in a hot oven, 400 degrees, until bacon top is crisp.
3. Left-over mashed potatoes, rice or macaroni mixed with a small amount of meat or vegetables may be mixed with a beaten egg and sautéed as a fritter.
4. Tuna or halibut in small amounts may be made into enough for a main course salad by the addition of an equal quantity chopped celery and chopped cooked noodles. When chopped, the noodles can barely be detected from the shredded fish.
5. Add to a can of lima beans or an equal quantity of cooked dried split peas or lima beans any bits of chipped left-over meat or vegetables. Cover with a can of tomato soup, sprinkle lightly with cheese or crumbs and bake until heated through and browned on top.
6. A left-over slice of cooked liver is often extremely hard to use the second time. A most interesting and delicious luncheon dish can be made by combining this small amount of cooked liver with Steel Cut Oatmeal. In this way, food value is added to the dish and the left over morning cereal is used. The mixture should be seasoned with care as both ingredients have been previously salted. This may be made into flat patties or, better still, allowed to stand until it is hard enough to slice. Then it may be dipped in flour and sautéed in butter or rolled in egg and crumb and fried in deep fat. To dress up these slices for table service there is nothing more tasty than a Mushroom Sauce.
Crisp Carrot Sticks
Canned Peaches and Coolies
White Bread
Tea, Coffee or Milk
Mushroom Sauce
1/4 cup butter
1/4 cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup canned mushroom liquor
1 1/2 cups milk
1 egg, well beaten
1 teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce
2 teaspoons grated onion
1/2 cup chopped canned mushrooms
Melt butter, blend in flour and salt. Combine mushroom liquor, milk and egg. Add liquid to flour mixture slowly, stirring until smooth and thick. Add remaining ingredients and keep hot until served. 2 cups sauce.

Student 'Pulls Education Out of His Derby'

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Oliver H. Beahrs is going through college by sleight-of-hand magic and he believes he's unique in that respect. The 22-year-old pre-medical student at the University of California matches objects out of the air, mysteriously squirms out of handcuffs and pulls flags from empty hats. And he's making it pay his way through college, he said, by presenting performances at social and other affairs and in vacation travels. He spends his summers touring

Imports Higher Than Last Year

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The commerce department reported today that imports of food and beverages were 8 per cent higher in the first nine months of 1936 than in the same period last year. The department said incoming shipments were valued at $536,326,000 compared with $500,725,000 for the same period of 1935. Contributing to the increase was whisky, imports of which were up about $17,000,000; cane sugar, up about $15,000,000; and wheat, about $16,000,000.

Congratulations From French

PARIS. (AP)—Official congratulations on his election victory were sent to President Roosevelt late yesterday by the French chamber of deputies. The members approved a motion proposed by Yvon Delbos, foreign minister, Speaker Edouard Herriot and Rene Richard, one of the principal supporters of Herriot's suggestion to pay the war debts in 1932. The chamber Socialist group, headed by Premier Leon Blum, also sent a congratulatory message to the President.

Report Invasion Of Ecuador

QUITO, Ecuador. (AP)—The chancellery announced today it had ordered an immediate investigation of reports Peruvian troops had invaded Ecuador near Yaupli. (The Peruvian foreign office declared the report "absolutely false.") Crowley, Deputy District Attorney Harold McCabe and Clarence Sprague prosecuted the case.

BELOVED CASTAWAY

By MARTHA BANNING THOMAS

Chase comes to the remote little fishing village of Smoke Mountain to try and forget the unhappiness brought to her and her dead mother and father by a vengeful woman, Mrs. Masters. Seven years pass, during which she tends the villagers in their illnesses. Then Job O'Farrell, young fisherman, proposes to her. She is ready to accept him, but first tells him her history. When he realizes what her background has been, he is afraid she may not always be happy in her present surroundings, and says they must think things over. Shortly afterward, Rory MacLeod, young artist and a nephew of Mrs. Masters, arrives in search of Karen, but is vague as to his exact errand.

CHAPTER VII

Karen saw Rory MacLeod often, thought of him when she hardly realized she was thinking of him. He did not mention again his errand at Smoke Mountain. At home, she surprised Job, time after time, looking at her intently out of his blue eyes, with his lips a little stern.

"What is it, Job?" she finally inquired. "You watch me like a cat."

One evening, he spoke of Rory MacLeod. He began by saying that he liked him.

"I like him, too," agreed Karen. "And why wouldn't you? He comes from your kind of place."

She smiled assent. "He has come from the town where I lived."

"And that's a funny thing," said Job. "To have him come so soon after our talk on the bluffs."

"Yes—it is. Mr. MacLeod told me he came particularly to hunt me up—to tell me something."

"Why doesn't he, then?"

"He was just beginning to that day when you came with news of Little Sandy. Since then, he's not said a word about it."

"He's a nephew of the Mrs. Masters I told you of."

"I told him I would have nothing to do with anyone connected with Mrs. Masters. But, somehow, he's still here!"

Job came close to her. "If you want me to send him away proper, I will."

He looked so eagerly belligerent that Karen laughed.

"No, no, Job! I think now I'd better hear what he has to say. He's taken a lot of trouble to find me."

"Guess who this is," said Karen one day. "A little old man with wide trousers who goes flapping up the road, and whose hair is long and curled up."

"Why not?" Karen asked, puzzled.

He comes here a-looking at me through the window—and his eyes go clear through me. I wish," he added plaintively, "that Mrs. Sawyer would keep her man to home."

One morning, standing on the little back porch of the Trew house, Rory told Karen that he thought the child was slipping away under her eyes.

Karen looked worried. "I don't know. I'll have to try to find out where he is. I am bothered about the child."

Rory looked at her for a long moment, then said irrelevantly, "I'm continually haunted by your resemblance to your mother. It makes me feel as if I'd known you a long time." He smiled. "After all, I did know you long ago in Two Rivers."

She turned away. "Don't make me think of Two Rivers. I hate the thought of it now."

"Don't hug hatred too close."

You'll get a permanent cramp in your heart." He paused. "You can't cut yourself off from your old life forever, Karen. You can't stay on indefinitely here—really."

"No?" She spoke coolly. "I rather think I can. You see, Job O'Farrell and I are soon to be married."

Quick dismay turned the man's face curiously old. Then, as suddenly, it became expressionless. "Forgive me. I never guessed. Job is a fine fellow."

He extended his hand. She placed hers in it and they stood there, looking at each other.

"It's best, you see," said Karen. "I can never go back. I hate Two Rivers now—because of Mrs. Masters."

Rory spoke quietly. "I think your view of things has become distorted and exaggerated through brooding and loneliness. Come back to Two Rivers and let me prove it to you."

"Never! That woman..." Karen choked.

Just then, Job came around the corner of the house. Karen and Rory quickly let their clasped hands fall.

"I just heard that Dr. Blake is over at Small Smoke on the other side of the mountain," Job announced. "I thought it would be a good thing if he saw Little Sandy."

"But if we go around the mountain by water, it would take a day and a half, and we might miss him," said Karen.

"Yes," said Job, "but there's a mountain road." He paused. "I thought we ought to take Little Sandy to the doctor, instead of bringing the doctor back here. It would save time."

Karen and Rory stared at him. "I'm strong, and used to heavy going," Job continued. "We could rig up a swinging hammock for Little Sandy. I can get to couple of men, so we could spell one another." His voice sank. "Little Sandy needs to see the doctor—and soon. I figure we ought to start right now."

"Do you honestly think the thing possible?" asked Rory. "How could the child stand such a journey in his present condition?"

The three of them stood there, considering the expedition.

"If you go, then I'm coming too," Karen said suddenly.

"You don't know me! I'll be ready in half an hour. Goodbye!" She was off.

Then, Rory asked, a little humbly, "May I come along? I'm in fairly good shape. I could take my turn with the poles."

"You ain't fit. You're soft—city folks aren't up to that kind of thing. You'd best stay behind and—paint!"

AFL SEES CUT IN BUYING

The federation's monthly business survey contended workers are not getting their share of returning prosperity because "no significant gain" in hourly earnings has accompanied lengthening hours of work.

"Because industry is now rapidly expanding the shortage is not noticed," the survey said. "It will be felt when a new peak is reached and buying power fails to sustain further production."

START DRIVE TO PREVENT ACCIDENTS

A definite safety campaign to make every Mexican in California safety minded is being sponsored through the cooperation of public spirited businessmen and officials of the Mexican consulate with Traffic Safety Service, Inc., of Los Angeles, according to Elias Colunga, consul of Mexico.

Realizing that the appalling increase in automobile and pedestrian accidents can be materially reduced through a consistent educational program among the Spanish speaking population, the Mexicans under the leadership of Sol M. Gonzales, president of the Mexican Businessmen's association of Orange county, are enthusiastically endorsing this campaign.

Drivers Instructed

"Our desire to assist in this program to prevent fatalities and permanent injuries has already been shown," said Gonzales. "Honorary safety groups have been set up in 10 Mexican colonies in Orange county. With the aid of five volunteer Mexican interpreters, weekly traffic classes have been established. They are intelligently instructing Mexican vehicle operators of the proper operation of cars. Classes are held regularly to teach applicants the motor vehicle laws and regulations, preliminary to seeking licenses.

"Special emphasis is placed on the strict requirements of truck operators, the importance of proper mechanical conditioning of trucks for safety, and the necessary safety equipment required by law."

Leaders Pleased

Judge Kenneth Morrison of Santa Ana, Supervisor William Jerome, Santa Ana, Chief of Police James Bouldin of Anaheim, Police Chief Floyd Howard of Santa Ana, Captain H. C. Mehan, head of the Orange county highway patrol, and Chief of Police George Franzen of Orange are all elated over the results of the Traffic Safety Service organization to obtain the active interest of the Mexicans.

Many of the serious traffic accidents in this state have been attributed to uneducated drivers and this is the first time a real constructive program has been offered to remedy the condition.

Headlight adjustment stations have been created and every Mexican's vehicle will be thoroughly inspected by the highway patrol, which has offered assistance.

Voluntary Policing

Honorary traffic patrols are being conducted by the Mexican colonies at their social parties and other functions. Each colony consists of about 1,000 persons and the voluntary policing of their own people is to be commended, said Lawrence Raymond, managing director of the sponsoring organization.

Mexican newspapers are running news stories and articles on safety. Through financial assistance of the Mexican businessmen, the state motor vehicle act will be translated into Spanish. Consul Colunga believes that Traffic Safety Service is carrying on a vital program which will do much to reduce accidents and fatalities. Before the first of the year similar activities will be operating in every Mexican section of the state.

Admits Poisoning His Brother to Collect Insurance

ELKHART, Ind. (AP)—Police said Lester Bedford Slack, 34, house painter, confessed yesterday to poisoning his brother, Elgy Slack, 39, in order to collect his brother's insurance. Elgy Slack died Monday night.

Police found two $500 policies on Elgy Slack's life naming Lester as beneficiary. The confession said Lester put some poison crystals in wine his brother drank Monday night.

Car Struck By Bullet Is Held

Brea police today were holding for investigation an automobile with a .38-caliber bullet hole in the rear window, following arrest of the driver on drunk driving charges.

The driver gave his name as Eddie Seigler, and police were checking other California cities for further information about the bullet hole.

Explains Traffic Program

Harry A. Abbott, president of Traffic Safety Service, Inc., points out to Elias Colunga, Mexican consul at Los Angeles, the rising traffic death and accident rate and the need for adopting an intelligent intensive plan of education to reach the entire Mexican population of this state.

GYPSY CURE 'GYPS' MAMA Papa Recovers $30 Plunder

After two gypsy women had taken $30 from his wife on the pretense they could cure the Morones' daughter of infantile paralysis, Moreno caught the two yesterday, grabbed the money and returned home.

Mrs. Moreno told police the two women took the $30, saying they would have to get materials for the promised "cure," and left a handkerchief "to show good faith."

Order Insurance on Victims To Be Paid Their Slayer

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—Insurance companies received orders today to pay death benefits to the guardian of a self-term "scarlet sin" slayer.

The funds are due for the death of Mrs. Samuel C. Weed and her two children, beaten to death in their home last July 18.

Weed, 40-year-old Sunday school superintendent, told police he killed his family because he had committed a "scarlet sin." He declined to explain his statement.

The Erie county court later ordered him placed in an insane asylum, and Judge William E. Hirt ordered payment of insurance benefits to Edward E. Petrillo, legal guardian for Weed, to be used in caring for the asylum inmate.

NEW SAFETY AT PARTY BURGLAR INTERSECTION GETS $185

They're a new system of cross-walk protection for the pedestrian and a "speeder-upper" for traffic. It was explained today by Motor Sergeant A. H. Hershey of the police department.

The markers, little rows of metal buttons, divide the crosswalk into half. As soon as the pedestrian reaches the halfway mark in the middle of the street, traffic to his right must stop at the indicated row, and traffic to the left, which has stopped while he crossed, may go on.

The plan is being tried out in a number of California cities, Hershey explained, and is getting its first test here. The buttons were installed early this morning.

PROBE PECKHAM DEATH TODAY

A coroner's jury this afternoon was to inquire into the traffic death of Charles Peckham, 64, of Fullerton, who was fatally injured Wednesday in a crash at Fifth street and Harbor boulevard.

Peckham died yesterday in Santa Ana Valley hospital. His skull was fractured when the car in which he was riding, driven by George Carpenter, 48, Fullerton, was struck by an auto driven by C. H. King, 52, Huntington Beach.

Another inquest yesterday resulted in the verdict that Wayne Robert Maxwell, 21, Santa Ana, was fatally injured Tuesday as the result of a blowout on the car in which he was riding on North Ninth street.

Thursday Annexes Midget Races

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Thursday was good luck again for Fred Friday. He cashed in an early lead to win the 75-lap main event at Gilmore midget speedway last night.

SMITH BLOCKS USE OF CLAY SEWER PIPE

Still deadlocked over a choice between vitrified clay pipe and concrete pipe for repair of the joint outfall sewer, the sewer board last night recommended the former to city members and districts after a long battle at Anaheim.

The recommendation, however, was by a majority vote, with only Santa Ana, represented by Councilman Joseph P. Smith, holding out for concrete construction.

No work can proceed until and unless Santa Ana changes its collective councilmanic mind in favor of the glazed tile pipe, or the eight other joint owners of the sewer swing over in favor of concrete. All cities and sanitary districts in the board must agree on any program.

Smith last night assailed the report of G. N. Adams, Los Angeles consulting engineer, who had recommended a 39-inch gravity line of vitrified clay. Smith contended that a concrete pressure system would be as satisfactory and would cost less.

"We won't have Adams. We won't supply a nickel if Adams is on the job," Smith declared during the battle.

Lew W. Blodgett, Santa Ana attorney, caused a sensation at the meeting when he expressed an opinion that La Habra, last in line to join the outfall sewer board, has no right to vote on sewer questions.

To Consult Council

La Habra, however, was accorded a vote when the board went on record in favor of the clay pipe.

In favor were La Habra, Orange, Anaheim, Fullerton and the sanitary districts of Placentia, Garden Grove and Buena Park. Santa Ana voted against it.

Smith said he would not be able to change his stand until he has consulted with the other members of the city council here.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK. (AP)—While selected stock market issues forged into new high territory for the recovery today, selling of the steels and other recent leaders effectively put the brakes on the post-election rally.

Slow trading trends, however, slowed the trading pace after the ticker tape was behind for almost an hour and a half in the morning. Transfers were around 2,700,000 shares.

BECERRA HELD TO TRIAL IN STABBING

Son Testifies Against Him in Preliminary Examination

The boy told the court at Becerra's preliminary hearing in Orange that his father owned a knife similar to that with which Paul Balderama was stabbed to death Oct. 17. Becerra formerly had denied possession of such a weapon.

A defense motion to substitute a charge of manslaughter for the murder complaint was denied by the court, and bail was set for $5000.

Jose Peralta, passersby at the time of the stabbing, clinched the prosecution's case when he told Justice A. W. Savage he had seen Becerra struggling on the ground with his victim, and that Becerra had raised his arm to strike Balderama. He did not see a knife.

Other witnesses were Dr. Elizabeth Tock, who performed an autopsy on the dead man; Police Officer Thomas Towns, who arrested Becerra; Officer John Elstie, Officer V. G. Wolfe and Police Chief George H. Franzen.

CALL TIME IN KEENE FIGHT

Superior Judge G. K. Scovel yesterday postponed further hearings on the plea of Mrs. Florence Keene for the removal of David Keene as guardian of her husband, Arthur, to allow a court physician to examine the elder Keene, who is confined in the Los Alamitos sanitarium as an incompetent.

Yesterday's hearing was on Mrs. Keene's petition for removal of her husband from the sanitarium. She charged he was not receiving proper treatment.

In the meantime, the 43-year-old protagonist in the two-year court battle over Arthur Keene's Carbon Canyon ranch property is facing trial on bigamy charges preferred this week by her opponents in the civil action. They contend she was married to another man at the time of her marriage to Keene several years ago.

HOBO BLOCKADE PLANS LAID

Plans for the 10-county drive against hobos and transients in Southern California were to be perfected at a meeting of supervisors and sheriffs representatives in Los Angeles today.

Superior W. C. Jerome represents Orange county. Jerome represented this county at a meeting of supervisors from the 10 counties yesterday in Los Angeles, at which preliminary plans for the hobo campaign were worked out.

The plan probably will be fashioned on that employed by Los Angeles county last year, when Los Angeles police officials, under the direction of Chief of Police Davis, patrolled the borders of the state to prevent indigents from entering.

It is felt that this year each county will patrol its own borders, under the direction of a central council.

Reformed Convict Gets His Chance

BOSTON. (AP)—George E. Gilbert, 41-year-old reformed prisoner, will soon be free to resume his "model life" in Los Angeles.

The man who escaped from Norfolk prison colony in 1930, went to Los Angeles and obtained a highly-responsible job with an oil company, was granted parole yesterday, effective Nov. 21. He will be re-employed by the same firm, and continue his studies in chiropractic, interrupted by his arrest as a fugitive.

A detective magazine reader noted Gilbert's picture in a lineup of wanted men, and told officers "George W. Parker" was Gilbert. He was returned in 1934 to finish out a term of four to eight years for robbery, in addition to another of six to eight years for kidnapping.

Typhoon Delays Clipper's Hop

MANILA, P. I. (AP)—A typhoon moving northwestward across the Pan-American Airways line of travel today brought postponement of the China Clipper's expected take-off early tomorrow.

If weather permits, the flying ship will leave early Sunday, with Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney and Roy W. Howard among the passengers.

Digest Was Right, After All

IT'S time to stop kidding the Literary Digest about its presidential poll and give the magazine credit for doing the usual good job of tabulating the national voting trend.

On the face of the matter, the poll appeared to forecast a big Landon victory. But proper interpretation of the results shows that it really indicated the Roosevelt landslide. Believe it or not!

You can prove this for yourself by applying to Digest figures this simple formula worked out by Curtis Hilmyer, noted San Diego attorney. Mr. Hilmyer has a whole closet full of new hats as a result of the betting tendencies of his Republican friends. Here's the formula:

Disregard all Digest figures except those who show the vote for Hoover and Roosevelt in 1932 and the vote for Landon and Roosevelt in 1936. Take the total of those who voted for Hoover and deduct it from the total Landon vote. Multiply the remainder by the quotient obtained by dividing the Hoover-Roosevelt vote of the entire state by the Hoover-Roosevelt vote in 1932 as shown in the Digest poll. Subtract this result from the plurality by which Roosevelt carried the state in '32 and the remainder will be the minimum Roosevelt plurality in 1936.

Landon supporters among 1932 voters.....	31,804
Deduct Hoover vote among 1936 pollers.....	29,497
Landon gain in group over Hoover.....	2,307
Total actual Hoover-Roosevelt vote, '32.....	773,702
Divide by Hoover-Roosevelt vote in 1932.....	50,107
Number of voters per poll tabulated.....	15
Multiply Landon gain by quotient, getting actual Landon gain over state.....	34,605
Actual Roosevelt plurality in 1932.....	74,706
Deduct Landon gain.....	34,605
Total Roosevelt plurality for 1936.....	40,101

President Roosevelt actually ran between 40,000 and 50,000 ahead of Governor Landon in Kansas Tuesday—verifying the accuracy of the Hilmyer formula. It's simple. Almost uncanny.

The same calculation applied on the Digest poll to the other 47 states shows 39 for Roosevelt and 9 for Landon—which was about as good a percentage as any national poll scored.

Editor Funk and his aides should apply this formula to their poll in 1940. It will give the nation a true picture of the race—and may save them a lot of raspberries.

A fugitive from an army prison surrendered in Salem, Ore., and demanded his soldier's bonus. He probably figured that was sort of a reward for catching himself.

Strike Is Canada's Gain

CANADA already is benefiting from the waterfront strike on the Pacific coast. Shipment of fruits and perishables from Washington may soon be sent to Vancouver for transshipment to the world.

In a sportsmanlike way, Canadian business men have said they would not try to take advantage of America's plight. That's great. But they need make no such attempts. Business is naturally going to flow to Canadian ports. The picture on the front page of yesterday's Journal—showing the great docks empty and idle at San Francisco—tells the story.

Each day the strike goes on means that our shippers and workmen alike are losing money to Canadians. It's a bad situation all around for American business—no matter whether you favor the employers or the strikers.

A Low Crime Rate

SANTA ANA has a low crime rate. And you probably have already guessed that it's due to the excellence of Chief Howard and his able force of officers. That's right!

Chief G-man Edgar J. Hoover himself points out the relation between a community's crime rate and its police force. After studying crime records in 2000 American cities, he comes forward with this conclusion:

Cities with the most crime are cities with the smallest number of police per capita, and vice versa. Cities in the top fourth, averaging 2.3 policemen per 1000 inhabitants, had an average of 50.9 robberies in the first half of 1936; cities in the bottom fourth, having an average of .9 policemen per 1000 averaged 93.2 similar offenses.

We Need Such Men!

CALIFORNIA was settled by men and women with the pioneer spirit—and a news dispatch about Russell Crone, a Pennsylvania boy, shows that the old flame flickers on in the hearts of young Americans.

Russell wants to become a farmer in Alaska. When the army refused to take him as a raw recruit for Alaskan duty, he made such a splash that he broke through the yards of red tape and got on the roll anyhow. In a few weeks he'll be en route for the land of his dreams.

It was exactly this determination to own a home, and a bit of land that brought so many of the fine old American stock to California. Cold, hunger and Indians couldn't stop them as they streamed across the plains.

Alaska needs men like Russell Crone. And it is heartening to know that this nation is producing them.

Whimsies of O. O. McIntyre

Thoughts while strolling: Misdemeanors of this world are a blue lake, serene, untroubled, with snow white swans floating silently by. A new face for the cafe snapshots: Gertrude Lawrence over from London. Look alike: Lorenz Hart and Mayor La Guardia. Those boys around the automatons who try to look like George Raft in their one-flight-up togs. Just when I think the world has no more chuckles, Percy Crosby will come along with a pip or a "Skippy." And the sun shines again.

Rudy Vallee ducked a lot of sniggers chucking that first name, Hubert. What became of Winnie Lightner? Social comedy note: All the Park avenue folk suddenly discover they are living upstairs over stores. Never hear any of those Dorothy Parker fast ones any more.

For my money, Frank Craven to make any stage role seem natural. Funny, that one in Esquire of the swordfish putting on a fiesta because Hemingway had sailed to other waters. One-word description of Maury Paul: Bouncy. Sid Silverman, Silent Young Owner of Variety. Still water, etc.

Add Never Sees: Thyra Samter Winslow without her Pom. Joseph Hergesheimer's fascinating and jutting front tooth. If I have to be run down by a truck, I'll take one of Cartier's cute delivery go-carts. Jay town stuff: They still stand out front and gawk at the Astor.

Somehow this sign on upper Lenox avenue in the Black Belt struck me as something or other: "Harlem Braubaus." And a little further north is The Ali Babo Tavern and the Girley Pirley Beauty Shoppe.

Many familiar faces Americans used to see around the Place Vendôme—at the Ritz "swivel room," Rumpelmayer's, Ciro's and Sherry's—may now be seen in Hollywood. All that's needed is white-coated, pink-cheeked Frank Maré awaiting the order for the true Parisian picture. Among Paris regulars now transplanted on the west coast are the elegant, the elegant, Florence Walton, Grace Field, Elaine Gwynne, Hank Wales, Basil Woon, Charles Grayson and many, many more.

Most theatrical folk after the play will be found supping in the grill, snack bars and restaurants on Central Park South these days. This strip from Broadway to Fifth avenue has become a strolling ground for players somewhat in the manner of the old Rialto on Fourteenth street. A reporter finds that 70 per cent of legitimate players are living in the high-rise apartment houses in the area. It's also the New York residing place of a number of better known orchestra leaders. Whiteman, Noble, Himber, etc.

To my notion, the most picturesque of theatrical hotels was the Bartholdi Inn on Broadway in the 30's. Its clientele was largely chorus girls and chorus boys, show-brets, heavies and juveniles. Almost every hour trouper were arriving from a tour of the tanks, which would immediately spark off a ruckus in the bars. Wilson Mizner and George Bronson Howard picked up much of their hard-boiled patter and cynicisms there. Madame Bartholdi, a motherly steel bespectacled lady in black saten as though right off at Iowa farm, trusted everybody at last once and in a later career declared her losses would not total $1000. It was at the Bartholdi Helen Green picked up much material for those enchanting Maison de Shine theatrical boarding house stories so popular in the old Morning Telegraph.

In those halcyon days Renold Wolfe was the Broadway oracle, the first chatter columnist, dealing in kindly but sometimes hilarious fashion with the passing parade. It was a feather in a player's cap to be mentioned in his Morning Telegraph double spread. He was supposed to be in constant ink with J. Fred Zimmerman, the original of the feudal fakeries, but who was in reality his boon companion. Almost every morning he made Zimmerman appear a surprisingly dumb ox. As witty as Wolfe was in his writing, he was at his best as after dinner speaker. There he would skin the guest of honor alive and make him like it.

Overheard near the Winter Garden: "Of course, all women are biased. Bias has no bias that."

LAUGHTER IN THE LAW

There is a sense of humor in the administration of the laws, though some of the actors do not see any fun in it.

Recently J. C. Delmar of Tulsa, Okla., was arrested by police for intoxication and roaming the streets minus his clothes. The police sought the advice of Judge Slocum as to how to bring the naked offender before the court. His honor solved the problem. He took off some of his clothes and loaned them to the defendant long enough to bring him before the bar of justice and fine him four dollars.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON.—Now that the roar and smoke of election have subsided, the chief question in the mind of the country is: WHICH WAY ROOSEVELT?

Will he go left or right? Will he continue on a radical-liberal course? Will he become more conservative? To give an inclusive and categorical answer to this question would be sheer pretense and bluff, for the reason that Roosevelt himself probably does not know now just what attitude he will take on all issues.

The best answer is that Roosevelt will continue about as he has. He is a catch-as-catch-can fighter. He himself once compared his attack on the depression to the tactics of a football team—an end run, a line charge, a back-field huddle.

Continuing the comparison, Roosevelt is best as a broken-field runner. He can zig-zag and dodge, but he keeps his goal-posts pretty well in sight. And through one play or another, he makes progress toward them.

That is more or less what he is going to do for the next four years. He may yield here, or pull his punches there, according to the reaction of public opinion. But you can mark it down in the book that he will continue a definite left-of-center course along the general line he has followed so far.

SPECIFIC ISSUES

To be more specific, here are some of the big issues sure to arise during the next four years and the general policy which Roosevelt's closest friends expect him to follow:

Supreme Court—He will buck the court. Some months ago John L. Lewis urged him to make the court an issue during the campaign. To this the President replied: "Now is not the time, John. Wait until after elections."

The degree of Roosevelt opposition will depend upon the degree to which the nine old men oppose his policies. If the President's stubborn Dutch temper is aroused, he will strike and strike hard.

Social Security, Minimum Wages—On this Roosevelt will go left, and emphatically so. The action of the supreme court in throwing out the New York minimum wage act and the NRA deeply aroused him, almost as much as the Republican attack on the social security act. The latter he considered "unpatriotic," "un-American" and "vicious."

He would have passed more legislation on this anyway, but he is doubly sure to do so now, and more drastic measures than otherwise.

The Blue Eagle—There will be no new NRA, but some of the basic features of the NRA will be put forward again, such as minimum wages, maximum hours, and child labor restrictions.

The Currency Act—On this the President will go left. This law, meat-sprung by the supreme court last spring, is one of the first on the Roosevelt "must" list. He gave this promise to John L. Lewis last June, on the night Senator Democratic Floor Leader Robinson refused to keep congress in session in order to break the filibuster against the revised Guffey act.

Lewis delivered the miners and other labor groups 100 per cent for the President on Nov. 3, and he is not the kind who fails to collect on his I.O.U.'s.

Taxes—On this Roosevelt will go right, if he can. He believes it will be possible to hold down taxes because of increased revenues resulting from better business. In any event, he will go easy on taxes for the time being.

Housing—Roosevelt came out for a big-scale housing program when he dedicated Roosevelt park, a PWA project in Manhattan's teeming East Side. One thing he forgot to mention at the time of making this pledge was that he alone was responsible for blocking the Wagner housing bill in the last session of congress.

Aside from the humanitarian aspects, Roosevelt considers a giant building program important as a further spur to the wheels of industry.

Banking Legislation—This was knocked out of the social security act by pressure from organized physicians, but it is now on the President's list of "things to be done," and the American Medical society can get ready for a knock-out and drag-out battle.

Pure Food and Drug Act—This will come up again, though not in its original drastic form as written by Professor Tugwell. It will be more moderate, but still contain plenty of teeth.

Banking Legislation—On this the President will go right. He believes that his present banking legislation is working well, and he will mark time. The general monetary situation also will continue as it is unless changed by world developments.

Foreign Affairs—The chief aim in this field will be to try to head off war in Europe. This would be in the nature of an international conference at which all nations would agree to keep armaments at the status quo, at the same time accepting Roosevelt's previously proposed definition of an aggressor—namely, any nation which sends its armed forces outside its own borders. In the event of aggression all nations—including the United States—would agree to shut off credits and war materials to the aggressor.

This is a long shot, but the alternative is stark catastrophe, and Roosevelt has the idea under very earnest consideration.

Liberal Features in General—Roosevelt has given a lot of blank checks to his liberal friends regarding more power projects, remedies for the evils of farm tenantry and share-cropping, and the protection of civil liberties. They are determined to collect on these pledges and on many of them they will.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Alexander Weddell, ambassador to Argentina and delegate to the peace conference, claims to have the best mint bed in Buenos Aires, developed from a shot originating in a mint bed planted by George Washington. . . . Red Cross has been approached by persons of wealth who want to give money to relieve the wounded in the Spanish civil war, but they want to relieve only the rebels, not the "Communists." Red Cross makes no promises, insists on dividing its benefits between both factions. . . . Treasury's painting and sculpture section assigned a man to do a mural for a new postoffice in Portsmouth, Ohio. By a coincidence, it proved to be Richard Zoellner, born in 1908 in Portsmouth, Ohio.

What Other Editors Say

OLD SPANISH RACKET HAS NEW VERSION

(Riverside Enterprise)

We thought the Spanish Prisoner letter swindle would go into retirement until conditions had improved in Spain, but it seems this ancient hoax is carrying on in a new guise.

The prisoner now is a rebel major, dying of a wound received at the hands of the militia. It appears from his letters that he foresaw the present chaos, and converted his assets into British bank notes to the sum of $300,000, which is hid in a secret compartment of a truck now in the hands of the government forces. The latter are willing to release the trunk for $1500, which the major unfortunately lacks, and he would be eternally grateful if his correspondent would send the money along to redeem the property. In fact, he will be more than grateful—he will turn over to the Samaritan, on condition that the latter will act as guardian for an infant daughter when he is gone.

Nothing could be fairer—or so it seems to one person in 20. This was the proportion of prospects who fell for the prisoner hoax.

HE CERTAINLY KNEW

(The Ontario Report)

You never can tell. Here we thought that Jim Farley, sometimes known as "in the bag" Farley or "48-state" Farley was too optimistic when it seems that he was a pessimist all of the time. When Farley held the election was "in the bag" he knew what he was talking about. The sad thing, from a G. O. P. standpoint, was that the Republicans were holding the bag.

And if time permits, scribble a farewell message on the back of a visiting card.

While laying an electric cable in Montana, workmen unearthed three skeletons. This should be a warning to telegraph boys not to stand too near the edge when watching the street being dug up.

THOUGH FOR TODAY

Holding classes here on earth, Experience is the dearest one. But you get your money's worth!

Far too many of us failed to vote on election day. When we get rested up from that, we will fail to study the municipal railway problem for a while, and then begin neglecting to do our Christmas shopping early.

WHAT EVERY MOTHER KNOWS

One Man's Opinion

By Duncan Ellsworth Clark

EDITOR'S NOTE—Here is an informative, analytical daily feature on current topics. The opinions expressed in this column are not necessarily the same as those held by The Journal.

The One-Way Path That Comes Not Back

MRS. HOUDINI, widow of the famous magician, kept faithful vigil for 10 years, awaiting his return to earthly haunts. A lamp burned brightly in a little shrine erected to his memory. Every anniversary of his death the mourning woman watched for some manifestation of his presence, some message spanning the gulf which separates life from death. Ten years have passed away and the lonely watcher sorrowfully abandons her task of listening and hoping and waiting. Houdini was amazingly clever in freeing himself from locks and chains and tombs. Buried alive many times, in the earth and under water, he did marvelous things to amaze and amuse the spectators.

But the chains of death grip the magician in never-loosened bonds. What efforts he may have put forth to break the fetters and return to earth we have no means of knowing. He seemed endowed with uncanny clairvoyance which mystified multitudes of people. His patient widow has waited these 10 years for some sign from him, to catch some word, to hear the rustle of an invisible presence. But no sound has come to her from "the silent halls of death."

Ever since man stood upright and gazed into infinity he has been obsessed with the problem of immortality. He is incurably religious and persistently conscious of life after death. Somehow this creature, Man, more or less the victim of circumstances over which he has little control, buffeted by the "flings and arrows of outrageous fortune" refuses to believe that the pangs of death can still his life and stifle his spirit forevermore. He is buoyed up with an eternal hope that death is a mere transition from things of earth to the abiding life of the great beyond.

This enduring faith is an evidence of man's divinity. No animal-like creature is this being, Man, when he can dream and hope and beat back the elements of despair. It is not man's superior wisdom and skill which give him superiority over the brute creation. Not that he can dominate the earthly scene, bringing into submission all the handiwork of nature. But his claim to being "lord of creation" is the eternal hope that rises in his breast, that "though he die, yet shall he live."

Skinny Skribbles

Around and About Town

With C. F. SKIRVIN

Well, there is something to be thankful for besides Thanksgiving, and that is the election is over. When you have a five months' diet of politics it gets rather monotonous. Even candidates are relieved of the strain and expense. And if you think running for office isn't expensive try it sometime. With the primary system, if you get in the finals, you have two campaigns on your hands. I sort of liked the old caucus system myself. It was much less expensive, you had a personal acquaintance with the candidate selected, and both parties chose their strongest men.

Charley Overshiner returned from a two weeks' vacation to complain that during his absence I lost control of the weather. He blew in the same day the desert wind arrived.

"Monty" Motry was in Los Angeles Wednesday. He found his way into the Elks club where the boys were putting on an "Irish Night" program, and inasmuch as he could trace his ancestry to the race which made the shillalah famous, he remained for the program. It was typically Irish, both in brogue and costume. Why, when I talked to "Monty" the next morning he was wearing a flannel shirt.

I know a fellow who likes fishing so well that he failed to take advantage of the recent political landslide to take time out to rest his nerves. The shock was so great it interfered with his alibi.

Now I'm one of those fellows who appreciates extra editions, and any sort of information left at my door, but when three copies of an extra are delivered—one for each door—well, some one is getting cheated.

I want to say for my Democratic friends that they have been mighty considerate in their comment about the election, in which I was on the losing side. I suspect they make their references in proportion to my avoirdupois, in which case they wouldn't have much to say.

Frank Briggs was so happy over the election that he washed the windows. He said everything looked brighter to him.

By golly, everything does appear to be most peaceful since the election. Even the desert wind has subsided.

And then John Knox comes back from Oklahoma without Alfalfa Bill Murray, which is another indication that the fighting is over.

A constitutional amendment giving congress and the states the right to regulate wages and hours of labor is one of the administration objectives. I hope they fix it so that everybody will not only be able to get work but will be compelled to work, if they are physically able. "Dole" is a distasteful word in America.

My understanding is that the city has stalled those boxes at convenient corners so you could throw your waste paper into them, but I observed a citizen stand close to one of them and throw the paper into the street. There's your cooperation with the "co" left out.

There isn't much chance of the absentee ballots changing any of the election results. So far as my investigation has gone, there isn't any such thing as a close result. Not this year.

All I task of the next state legislature is to decide amendments for me. I've got my own business to attend to. It isn't much, but I'm getting paid for it, and legislators are paid for looking after the public's business.

If I could fish, and liked fishing, I would go fishing. At least that is the way I feel. Elections are that way.

I notice trucks which ease their way into close alleys. They get in, and they get out, but sometimes the property owner discovers they have taken a piece of drain pipe with them.

A little 9-year-old daughter of a well-known citizen sallows forth to extract some joy out of the night when goblins are abroad. After ringing door bells, another idea suggested itself, so she returned to the back door with some article in her hand, when daddy inquired as to the nature of the next attack and the weapon to be used. Little daughter was going out to put soap on the windows, but when father investigated, she had bon ami. My information is that, rather than have the child disappointed, he exchanged the bon ami for soap, and that's the reason I have not told you his name.
